BEARS SCARE HORSES IN MOUNTAIN ROADS

Samuel Bechdel, of Near Howard, Has Thrilling Experience.

YOUNG LADY INJURED

Horse Frightens, Upsets Buggy and Runs Away in Hecla Gap—William McClellan Encounters Bear While Driving on Snow Shoe Pike.

Samuel Bechdel, whose home is below Howard, and a young lady who will shortly become his wife, had a thrilling experience on Thursday of last week, when their horse frightened at a large bear which suddenly appeared on the public road, in Hecla gap. The buggy was upset and the horse, frightened until it was unmanageable, tore itself free from the harness and run into the mountains, not being found until the following day.

On the following Sunday Mr. and Mrs. William McClellan, of Bellefonte, were driving to Snow Shoe when they suddenly encountered a large black bear. They were on the Snow Shoe pike, about six miles from Snow Shoe, when their horse suddenly raised its head and snorted. Before Mr. McClellan could detect what was wrong, a huge bear stepped out from the brush, jumped down a four-foot embankment and slowly walking across the road disappeared in the brush on the opposite side. When in the middle of the road the bear stopped and looked at the horse, then but about forty feet away. Apparently unconcerned the bear resumed its journey and soon was lost to view. It was with some difficulty that Mr. McClellan drove the horse over the bear's trail across the road. On the return trip home, late that night, the horse was as quiet as usual until it had reached that point where the bear had been encountered. Then it again lifted its head, snorted and started off on a lively clip for home.

In the case of Mr. Bechdel, however, the horse became more badly frightened and the escape of the two occupants of the buggy from serious injury was nothing short of miraculous. Mr. Bechdel was a member of the graduating class at State College last week. The young lady in question, whose home is in Martinsburg, attended the commencement exercises and latter accompanied Mr. Bechdel to his home. On the following day the two started to drive to Penn's Cave, and it was when they were in Hecla gap, between the mountains, that they had their thrilling experience. The horse first scented the bear, later seeing it in the brush. The next instant the horse was standing upon its hind legs, snorting loudly and finally plunging upon an embankment along-side the road. The buggy was upset and Mr. Bechdel and the young lady were toppled out into the road. The horse, still secured to the buggy, tore madly down the mountain road. A log wagon, which was standing in the road, caught the buggy and wrenched it loose from the runaway horse. Mr. Bechdel was not injured, but his companion was painfully bruised on the face and head. They endeavored to find the runaway horse, but it had turned off into the mountains and was not to be located. Giving up the search they walked to Hecla and that evening returned home by train. With the aid of Mr. Zimmerman, of Hecla, Mr. Bechdel and his brother, Clarence, the next day took up the trail of the runaway horse and finally found it in the mountains, every vestige of harness having been stripped from its body. The buggy was badly wrecked.

WILLIAM DORWORTH WEDS

Takes as Bride Miss Mary Louise Cator, of Greensboro, N. C.

William Jenkins Dorworth, a son of Dr. and Mrs. E. S. Dorworth, of Bellefonte, and Miss Mary Louise Cator, of Greensboro, North Carolina, were married at that place at 7.30 o'clock Wednesday morning. The wedding cememony was performed by Rev. Melton D. Clark, pastor of the Greensboro Presbyterian church.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Annie S. Cator, the family being well known residents of Greensboro.

The groom is a former Bellefonte boy and a graduate of State College. On leaving college he became identified with the General Electric Company. While in their employ he was assigned to install a large electric power and lighting plant for the Proximity Cotton Mills, at Greensboro. When the task was completed he was retained as chief electrician, which position he holds at the present time.

YOUNG WOMEN CAPTURE HONORS AND PRIZES

High School Commencement Exercises Held Tuesday Night.

23 AWARDED DIPLOMAS

Miss Anna M. Shuey Takes First Honors, and Miss Grace V. Showalter Second Honors—Prize Winners Announced—Dr. Weber Speaks.

In caps and gowns the Class of 1911—to the number of twenty-three—on Tuesday evening, last, were awarded diplomas, the occasion being the twenty-eighth annual commencement of the Bellefonte High School and the second event of the kind to be held in the New High School Building. Although the sudden closing of the public schools several weeks ago, owing to the prevalence of scarlet fever in Bellefonte, brought disappointment to the graduating class and a temporary postponement of plans, all was forgotten and class spirit was overflowing in the festivities attending the formal closing of their High School career. Successful as have been other commencement exercises in years gone by, the Class of 1911 scored a notable triumph and one which will live as a pleasant memory in the years to come.

In keeping with the remarkably well prepared and splendidly executed program was the large attendance of not only the parents of graduates and students of lower classes, but of the fathers and mothers of graduates of former years. The attendance was by many commented upon as not only a tribute to the graduating class but also as signifying the deep interest of the citizens of Bellefonte in the welfare of our public schools.

The large auditorium of the New High School Building presented an inspiring scene when at eight o'clock the exercises were called to order by Dr. M. J. Locke, president of the School Board, and the several graduates, sixteen young women and seven young men, filed onto the platform. Recalling pleasant memories of other commencement days were class penants on the walls, each standing out as if a silent witness upon the manner in which the Class of 1911 should acquit itself and bid farewell to scenes of the last four years. Predominating everywhere were the colors of the latest class to be awarded diplomas—purple and gold. Potted plants and greens formed a pretty setting along the front of the platform, while at the rear was a handsome American flag supporting a smaller flag, that of the Class of 1911.

Seated to the right from the platform were Professor Jonas E. Wagner, principal of schools, and others of the faculty, and the several members of the School Board. To the right of the latter were seated Rev. Fred W. Berry, who delivered the invocation, and Rev. Dr. A. M. Schmidt, who pronounced the benediction.

With the young women outnumbering the young men in the class more than three to one, it was not surprising that the former should capture not only first but second honors. The first honors were won by Miss Anna Mulhollan Shuey, while the second honors went to Miss Grace V. Showalter. And two better qualified for such responsible tasks could not have been chosen. With the class honors in the hands of young women it was only what might have been expected when they made the theme for their remarks the achievements of women. Miss Showalter, to whom was entrusted the salutatory, told a pretty and effective story of the part played by women in building the foundation, in establishing and in making possible what are today the great women's colleges in the United States. Miss Shuey, the valedictorian, pointed with pride to the progress scored by women and the fact that today they may be found serving as leaders in numerous professions. As if echoing and accentuating this thought, Dr. Samuel E. Weber, of State College, who made the commencement address, pointedly remarked that if the women of the present day are able to forge ahead and win honors which in past years have been regarded as belonging only to men, the women were welcome to their success.

As with the class honors so it was with the awarding of prizes. The young women captured everything in sight. For the most part they were carried off by Misses Shuey and Showalter.

All four members of the class assigned to parts in the program won applause for the splendid manner in which they acquitted themselves. The reading of the

ROUTES IN AND NEARBY CENTRE COUNTY AS PLANNED IN NEW STATE HIGHWAY LAW

Through the courtesy of Senator Joseph Alexander "The Republican" has secured a copy of the new State Road law, as passed by the Legislature and approved by Governor Tener, and which describes the several routes in and nearby Centre County. For the information of our readers we quote from the law a number of sections describing these routes. Some of the sections quoted are not located in Centre County, but form a part of the general plan and connect with those routes which do extend through the county. The several routes in question are as follows:

Route 23—From Williamsport to Lock Haven. Commencing at a point on the boundary line of the city of Williamsport and running by way of Jersey Shore to a point on the dividing line between Lycoming and Clinton counties and thence by way of Chatham Run to a point on the boundary line of the city of Lock Haven.

Route 24—From Lewisburg to Sunbury. Commencing in Lewisburg and running by way of Winfield to a point on the dividing line between Union and Snyder counties, thence to Shamokin Dam, opposite Sunbury, Northumberland County.

Route 26—From Middleburg to Lewisburg. Commencing in Middleburg and running by way of Penns Creek to a point on the dividing line between Snyder and Union counties, thence by way of Mifflinburg, Vicksburg and Lochiel into Lewisburg, Union County.

Route 27—From Lewisburg to Bellefonte. Commencing in Lewisburg and running over Route 24 to Winfield, thence by way of New Berlin to a point near Penns Creek, thence over Route 26 to Mifflinburg, thence by way of Hazelton to a point on the dividing line between Union and Centre counties, thence by way of Woodward, Millheim and Centre Hall into Bellefonte, Centre County.

Route 29—From Lewistown to Bellefonte. Commencing in Lewistown and running by way of Burnham, Reedsville and Milroy to a point on the dividing line between Mifflin and Centre counties, thence by way of Potters Mills to Centre Hall, thence over Route 27 into Bellefonte, Centre County.

Route 55.—From Huntingdon to Hollidaysburg. Commencing in Huntingdon and running by way of Alexandria, Water Street, Union Furnace and Birmingham to a point on the dividing line between Huntingdon and Centre counties, thence by way of State College and Lemont to Pleasant Gap, thence over Route 27 into Bellefonte, Centre County.

Route 57—From Huntingdon to Clearfield. Commencing in Huntingdon and running over Route 55 to Tyrone, thence by way of Bald Eagle to a point on the dividing line between Blair and Centre counties, thence by way of Sandy Ridge to a point on the dividing line between Centre and Clearfield counties, thence by way of Osceola to a point on the dividing line between Centre and Clearfield counties, and thence by way of West Decatur, Singtonand Williams Grove into Clearfield County.

Route 58—From Bellefonte to Lock Haven. Commencing in Bellefonte and running by way of Zion, Hublersburg and Nittany to a point on the dividing line between Centre and Clinton counties and thence by way of Clintondale and Mill Hall to a point on the boundary line of the city of Lock Haven, Clinton County.

Route 107—From Bellefonte to Clearfield. Commencing in Bellefonte and running by way of Milesburg, Unionville, Julian, Port Matilda and Philipsburg to a point on the dividing line between Centre and Clearfield counties, thence over Route 57 into Clearfield, Clearfield County.

Route 176—From Lewisburg to Lock Haven. Commencing in Lewisburg and running by way of West Milton, White Deer, Allenwood and Alvira to a point on the dividing line between Union and Lycoming counties, thence by way of Elimsport, Collomsville, Nippenose and Antes Fort to Jersey Shore, thence over Route 23 to a point on the boundary line of the city of Lock Haven, Clinton County.

Route 219—From Clearfield to Lock Haven. Commencing in Clearfield and running over Route 57 to Williams Grove, thence by way of Grahamton, Kylertown and Drifting to a point on the dividing line between Clearfield and Centre counties, thence by way of Moshannon, Snow Shoe, Runville Milesburg and Howard to a point on the dividing line between Centre and Clinton counties, thence by way of Beech Creek and Mill Hall to a point on the boundary line of the city of Lock Haven.

Route 251—From Bellefonte to Huntingdon. Commencing in Bellefonte, thence over Routes 27 and 29 to Milroy, thence to a point on the dividing line between Mifflin and Huntingdon counties, thence by way of Greenwood Furnace, McAlavy's Fort, Ennisville and Cornpropst's Mill into Huntingdon.

A number of sections of the law cover the matter of maintenance and repairs Summarized, they are as follows:

Maintenance of any road, street or highway heretofore improved or reconstructed as a State highway in any borough or incorporated town and forming a part of a State highway in such borough or town, shall be done by the State Highway Department and fifty per cent. of the cost charged to such borough or town. Provided, that where such State roads have been or hereafter may be improved or reconstructed with brick or any material other than telford waterbound macadam, the entire cost of maintenance shall be charged to such borough or town.

If, as we understand the new law, a number of sections of State road already built are to become parts of the proposed system, of which the several sections quoted above form connecting links, another paragraph in the law appears to be somewhat conflicting. It reads as follows:

"The State Highway Commissioner is directed to construct or improve and thereafter to maintain and repair at the cost and expense of the Commonwealth the highways forming the plan or system of the State highways in the several counties and townships hereinbefore mentioned and such improvement and maintenance shall be made according to specifications to be prepared by the State Highway Department as regards the character, construction and material to be used, and the said work of construction and maintenance shall be done under the direction and supervision of the State Highway Commissioner."

Another section of the law provides that all highways shall be of macadam telford, or some other stone road, or constructed of brick, gravel, cinder, oyster shells or other good materials or combinations of materials, said materials to be selected by the State Highway Commissioner before contracts are let. A minimum width of twelve feet is specified for all State highways. Still another section provides that the State Highway Commissioner shall purchase all necessary materials for uniform, economic and efficient repairs and maintenance and is empowered to employ all necessary labor or repair-men "who shall at all times in the year keep the State highway free from holes, ruts, sticks, loose stones or other impediments of any kind which tend to interfere with free and easy travel, or which if permitted to exist might tend to the deterioration, injury or destruction of the highway."

(Note—Next week "The Republican" will publish an interesting analysis of the new road law covering the matter of building, and maintaining State-aid roads.")

EXPECT BIG ATTENDANCE

Moose Outing at Hecla Park, July 4th, Likely to Draw Great Crowd.

Plans are rapidly assuming shape for the big Moose picnic at Hecla Park on the Fourth of July. Much interest is being manifested in the aeroplane exhibitions which Warren J. Bauman, the young aviator, is under contract to make. Mr. Bauman has signed a contract to make two flights in his Curtis type aeroplane.

A new feature, aside from the two base ball games and other athletic events, will be a Queen's Contest, to be participated in by a number of Bellefonte's most popular young ladies who will compete for valuable prizes. The young contestants are already entering the field and are selling tickets at 5 cents, each. Each ticket counts as one vote for the contestant whose name is written thereon.

For the accommodation of the crowd which is expected from Penns valley, a special train will be run over the Pennsylvania railroad, leaving Bellefonte at 7.30 o'clock in the evening and stopping at all points between here and Coburn. The Central Railroad of Pennsylvania is arranging to run special trains to and from Hecla during the day.

Festival at Pleasant Gap.

A festival will be held at Noll's grove, at Pleasant Gap, on Saturday evening, June 24, for the benefit of the Spring District High School. Ice cream, cake and other refreshments and delicacies of the season will be served.

PINE GROVE MILLS BOY FOUND AFTER 3 DAYS

16-Year-Old Clyde Price Wandered Through Mountains.

TURNS UP AT HANNAH

Citizens Made Midnight Search When Young Man Was Reported Missing—Offers Little Information to Explain Peculiar Actions.

Residents of Pine Grove Mills and for miles about in that section of the county were given a scare on Saturday night, last, when 16-years-old Clyde Price suddenly disappeared from the home of Mrs. Mary B. Meek, with whom he lived. Fearing that the boy had wandered away and become lost in the barrens, a general search was instituted, the searchers being equipped with lanterns and closely inspecting all the surrounding country. Traces of the missing boy were found at Gatesburg and several other places and it then became apparent that he was bewildered and was wandering aimlessly about. It was not until Tuesday afternoon that he was finally located at Hannah Furnace and then taken home. After a good night's sleep the boy was yesterday reported as being in fine shape and little the worse for his experience.

More or less mystery surrounded the boy's strange action. At first it was naturally supposed that he had become lost. In order to secure food he, however, told farmers and others that he was hunting work. For hours he wandered through the mountains and barrens and at one time, while he was being searched for, he was within a mile or so of his home. Just when hope of finding him was about abandoned word was received that he had made his appearance at Hannah Furnace, from which place he was returned to his home. There he offered little or no explanation of his peculiar action further than that he had suddenly decided to go away and that with no thought of the consequence he had wandered off.

PLANS NEW BUILDING

Robert Brandman to Add Moving Picture Stand to His Store.

Robert Brandman, proprietor of the well known Workmen's Store, has had drafted plans for a two-story brick building at the corner of Allegheny and Bishop Streets. He owns the ground where his present store is located, 52 feet on Allegheny Street, and 80 feet along Bishop Street.

Mr. Brandman contemplates building 30 feet on Allegheny Street and 80 feet on Bishop Street, keeping 22 feet on Allegheny Street for his store. His plans include using the first floor of the new building for a moving picture establishment. It is Mr. Brandman's intention to occupy the entire building.

The exact date for breaking ground for the proposed new building has not been fixed, although the contract calls for its completion in three months.

Since engaging in business in Bellefonte Mr. Brandman has made the Workmen's Store one of the most popular in this section. Success attended the venture and he now owns the corner property, regarded as one of the most desirable business stands in Bellefonte.

Farm House Burned.

The farm house on the Samuel B. Miller farm, near Bellefonte, occupied by Nathan Baughman and family, was completely destroyed by fire late yesterday afternoon. The household effects and other contents of the house were burned. It is not known how the fire originated. Mr. Miller had the house insured. There was no insurance on the belongings of the Baughman family and their loss is severe.

Hospital Notes.

Operations—Mrs. Francis Zimmerman, Milesburg; Mrs. Annie Kreps, Bellefonte.

Discharged—Mrs. Lolo Crater, Spring Mills; Mrs. Sadie Wilhelm, Milton.

Miss Francis Swope, nurse, departed on Wednesday for her home in Lock Haven, where she will recuperate from her recent illness.

Died after Operation.

John Howe died on Thursday of last week at his late home at Winburne. He recently underwent an operation in the Philipsburg hospital. Deceased was aged 50 years. Interment was made on Saturday.

CELEBRATING "FOURTH" THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Big Patriotic Jubilation in Bellefonte in Centennial Year.

A RARE OLD PROGRAM

Interesting Relic Found Describing Gala Time Which Included Firing of Cannons, Parade, Picnic, and Patriotic Addresses.

"The Republican" several days ago was especially fortunate in securing from a valued friend a program of a Fourth of July celebration in Bellefonte in Centennial year, 1876. Some of our residents who participated in the celebration are living today and no doubt the reading of the program will awaken pleasant memories of that occasion. It will require but a glance at the program to appreciate that the celebration was conducted on an appropriately elaborate scale, the entire day being given over to a succession of interesting patriotic events. The Fourth of July celebration in Bellefonte last year was patterned somewhat after that of a little more than a third of a century ago. Thanks to the foresight of the managers of the Centennial year celebration a specially printed program was prepared and in this manner a complete record of the event has been preserved. It is a pleasure to "The Republican" to be able to reproduce the program as used in Bellefonte thirty-five years ago and which was as follows:

1776 JULY 4th. JULY 4th. 1876.

AT BELLEFONTE, PA.

PROGRAM.

BELLS AND SALUTES.

At 12 o'clock on the night of the 3rd, or immediately thereafter, all the bells in town to be rung for ten minutes—the signal of the ringing to begin to be a cannon fired from Reservoir Hill.

Immediately upon the expiration of the ten minutes bell-ringing, a salute of 13 guns to be fired from Reservoir Hill, representing the 13 colonies of 1776; said salute to be replied to by a salute of 38 guns on Half Moon Hill, representing the 38 states of 1876—five minutes to intervene between the discharge of each gun.

At ten minutes of six in the morning, all the bells to be rung again, continuing until six o'clock, when one hundred muskets will be fired in quick succession, representing the one hundred years that have fled since the Declaration of Independence was proclaimed to the people.

JUBILEE AND PRAISE MEETING.

EXERCISES.

1. At half past eight o'clock in the mornıag there will be a meeting of the people in the Court House, to which everybody is invited, for the purpose of jubilation and praise, which will be called to order by the Chairman of the Fourth of July Association, Mayor S. S. Lyon, who will state the object of the meeting, and request Rev. Mr. Lilly, of the Lutheran church to open it with a five minutes prayer of a thanksgiving nature and appropriate to the occasion.

2. Next in order will be the singing of John G. Whittier's Centennial Hymn, beginning,

"Our Father God from out whose hand
The centuries fall like grains of sand, &c by a select chorus, the whole audience joining in.

3. "Hail Columbia," by the Bellefonte Band.

4. Singing of "America—My Country 'tis of Thee," &c., by the Choir.

5. Three minutes address by Gen. Beaver, followed by one of same length by Hon. C. T. Alexander.

6. "Old Hundred," by the Centennial Temperance Club Orchestra.

7. Reading of Mrs. Ford's poem, entitled "One Yundred Years from Now," by Mrs. James P. Hughes.

8. "Vive'l Amerique," by Quartette Club in costume.

9. Brief closing prayer, by Rev. H. J. W. Allen, of the Episcopal church.

The entire exercises in the Court House to last just one hour.

PART SECOND.

PARADE, MUSIC AND DINNER.

1. The procession will form in the Diamond at 10 o'clock sharp, under the orders of the Chief Marshal, Gen. James A. Beaver; and after marching through the principal streets, proceed to the ground selected for the further exercises of the day. The President, Mayor Lyon, will then take the chair and announce the Vice Presidents, one from each township and borough of the county, making such remarks as he may deem necessary and appropriate.

NOTED SUNDAY SCHOOL

Interesting Sketch Read at 50th Anniversary at Beech Creek.

An interesting history of the Beech Creek Presbyterian Sunday school was prepared by George F. Hess, of that place, and read upon the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of the school, which was appropriately observed on Sunday of last week. The article in question was published in the Lock Haven "Express," and was as follows:

This is not a history of the Presbyterian church of Beech Creek, but rather a historical sketch, in brief, of the Presbyterian Sunday school, the fiftieth anniversary of the organization of which we celebrate at this time.

Fifty years ago the nearest Presbyterian churches were located at Jacksonville and Mill Hall. A few persons attended the services in the Jacksonville church from this vicinity, but the majority of those who were Presbyterians attended the Bald Eagle and Nittany church at Mill Hall, and this church had a considerable membership from Beech Creek township. At that time the only church in this community was the old plastered church of the Methodist denomination, located nearby the present residence of Mrs. Jane Romig. This church was kindly granted to the Presbyterians for one service each month in the evening, the sermon being preached by a minister from either Mill Hall or Lock Haven. At that time there were resident in this community a number of Presbyterian families who had settled in this portion of the Bald Eagle valley, which, we must consider, was surrounded with virgin forests of giant pines and hemlocks, oaks, elms and beech trees, and many of our present farms were not cleared land. These people brought their Presbyterian faith with them and clung to it. I have often heard the late Squire James Clark tell how he walked to Jacksonville to church regularly.

This colony of Presbyterians, as it were, determined to organize a Sunday school and the call was given to meet in the old school house, the building which was abandoned in January, 1905, when our handsome new school building was erected on Vesper street. As you all know, this old building stood on the corner of Harrison and West Fairview street, in what in 1869 became this borough, and was subsequently torn down and a double dwelling house erected on the lot. This company of Presbyterians with others whom they interested in the project, assembled in the south room on the first floor and organized the Presbyterian Sunday school. That was Sunday, the 16th day of June, 1861, the hour being at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. According to the records that have come down to us, and they are very brief, unfortunately, seventy-eight persons were present at this organization. The only names mentioned, of the persons present, are Evan D. Ashton, George Furst, James Clark, Samuel Loomis, Silas Hess, Hugh White, Henry A. Snyder, Mrs. Fannie Hess, Lemuel T. Fearon, Susan Anderson, Mrs. Sarah Quay, William Quay, Mrs. Evan Ashton, Margaret J. David and Robert A. McMurray. At the fortieth anniversary which we observed ten years ago, five of these fifteen persons named were living and two of them. James Clark and Henry A. Snyder, were present with us. Today, so far as I can learn, all have departed this life.

At this organization, Evan D. Ashton was elected superintendent; George Furst, assistant superintendent and treasurer; Robert A. McMurrry, secretary and librarian; the attendance was, teachers 10, scholars 68.

I can find no record of any election of officers in 1862, and it is probable that the first officers held over until April 5th, 1863, when the following officers were elected: Superintendent, George Furst; Assistant Superintendent, Hugh White; Librarian, Allison Winklebleck; Treasurer, George D. Hess. Attendance, 43.

No election is recorded again until May 3, 1868, when these are the only officers mentioned as being elected: Superintendent, George Furst; Secretary, Harrison Miller. Attendance 107.

The next election was held April 10, 1869, and resulted as follows: Superintendent, George Furst; Assistant Superintendent and Treasurer, Silas Hess, Librarian, George D. Hess. Average attendance for the year, 64.

Although the school was regularly held every Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, yet the record does not show that there was any election of officers again until February 3, 1873, when the Rev. George Warrington was called as the pastor of this church. He entered enthusiastically into the work of the school. A constitution and by-laws were adopted and regularly entered upon the minutes, and at the election held February 3, 1873, the following persons were elected: Superintendent, Rev. George Warrington; Assistant Superintendent, Harrison Miller; Secretary and Treasurer, George D. Hess; Librarian, Alvin Knecht, Assistant Librarian, W. H. Neihart. The average attendance is given as 83.

The next election was held February 24, 1874, and these officers were elected: Superintendent, Henry A. Foresman; Assistant Superintendent, Charles B. McKean; Secretary and Treasurer, George D. Hess; Librarian, Alvin H. Knecht.

The election held March 9, 1875, resulted as follows: Superintendent, Henry A. Foresman; Assistant Superintendent, Sathiel Mobley; Secretary and Treasurer, Howard Mobley; Librarian, Charles R. Keyes.

Election March 5, 1876: Superintendent, James A. Quigley; Assistant Superintendent, Harrison Miller; Librarian, Andrew K. White; Secretary and Treasurer, George D. Hess.

Election of March 4, 1877: Superintendent, George D. Hess; Assistant Superintendent, Dr. H. H. Mothersbaugh; Secretary and Treasurer, Slathiel Mobley; Librarian, William Keyes.

At the election held March 3, 1878, March 2, 1879, and March 1, 1880, all of the above officers were re-elected.

The election of March 27, 1881, gave the following result: Superintendent, George D. Hess; Assistant Superintendent, Dr. H. H. Mothersbaugh; Secretary and Treasurer, Sterling McKean; Librarian, Cline Quigley, Jr.

The election of March 19, 1882, resulted: Superintendent, George D. Hess; Assistant Superintendent, James A. Quigley; Secretary and Treasurer, Slathiel Mobley; Librarian, William Keyes.

The elections held March 25, 1883, March 16, 1884, and March 22, 1885, resulted in all of these officers being re-elected.

The election of March 21, 1886, resulted as follows: Superintendent, George D. Hess, Assistant Superintendent, James A. Quigley; Secretary and Treasurer, Slathiel Mobley; Librarian Edwin S. Mobley; Assistant Librarian, Harry B. Clark; Leader of Music, Fleming P. Trexler; Organist, Miss Martha White.

The elections held March 29, 1887, March 18, 1888, and March 17, 1889, resulted in the re-election of the same officers except that Forest H. Dunkle was made Assistant Librarian March 18, 1888, in place of Harry B. Clark, and Mr. Dunkle was re-elected in 1889.

The elections of 1889, 1890 and 1891 resulted in the re-election of all officers except that Charles Johnston was elected Assistant Librarian in place of Forest B. Dunkle.

The same officers were re-elected at the elections of March 29, 1892, and March 27, 1893, except that Harry H. Fearon was elected Librarian in 1892, and Harry B. Clark, Librarian in 1893.

At the elections held March 11, 1894, and March 24, 1895, the same officers were re-elected except A. K. White who was elected Librarian in 1894, and Linn S. Trexler Treasurer in place of Slathiel Mobley in 1894, and James A. Quigley was elected Treasurer in 1895.

At the election of March 22, 1896, the same officers were elected except the following: Assistant Secretary, George T. Deise; Librarian, Harry H. Fearon; Organist, Miss Jessie Deise. Miss Deise succeeded Miss White who resigned after serving as organist for ten years continuously, according to the record.

All of the officers were re-elected at the election held March 21, 1897, and March 21, 1898.

No changes were made in the elections held March 19, 1899, except that W. E. Clark was made Secretary, succeeding Slathiel Mobley who served continuously as Secretary since 1882, 17 years, and at this election, 1889, Miss Lillian Glossner was made Assistant Secretary, and Harry H. Fearon was made Assistant Secretary in 1900, the only change made at this election, held March 18, (1900.)

No changes in officers were made at the elections of March 17, 1901, or March 22, 1902.

All officers were re-elected on March 29, 1903, except that three important changes were made: Secretary, Harry H. Fearon; Assistant Secretary, Guy H. Thompson; Organist, Miss Erie Farwell. Miss Jessie Deise resigned as organist, after serving continuously for seven years. At this election George F. Hess' name first appears as elected cornetist, although he had been playing in Sunday school regularly as long before as 1890, at least.

March 20, 1904, all officers were re-elected except that the following changes were made: Assistant Secretary, Walter F. Dubler; Organist, Miss Mayme Snyder.

In the election of 1905, March 26, the only change in the officers was Assistant Secretary, Dean R. Clark.

The election of March 25, 1906, shows the re-election of all officers, unless assistant secretary, which is left blank. Librarians were this year elected after being unmentioned since 1898, the last then being Andrew K. White, whose death occurred in 1899, while holding that office. The librarians here elected, 1906, were Miss Leotta Packer and Miss Florence McGhee. (Librarians.)

March 17, 1907, all officers were re-elected including, however, Guy H. Thompson, Assistant Secretary.

The election of March 22, 1908, resulted in the re-election of all officers.

In the election of officers held March 21, 1909, two changes occurred while all of the other officers were re-elected. These changes were: Assistant Secretary, Robert E. Mothersbaugh; Organist, Miss Laura M. Mapes. Miss Mayme Snyder resigned in September of the previous year for the same reason as all of the others unless one. She served as organist continuously for five years.

The election of March 20, 1910, resulted in the re-election of all officers except this change: Assistant Secretary, Earl R. Bitner. At his election two new departments were created with the following officers: President of Cradle Roll Department, Miss Nellie Linn; Vice President of Cradle Roll Department, Miss Mabel Bitner; President of Home Department, Mrs. Oscar McGhee; Vice President of Home Department, Mrs. David Sweely, Jr.

The last annual election of officers was held March 19, 1911, and all of the officers were re-elected, as follows, (except in the Cradle Roll and Home Department where changes occurred, as will be noticed:) Superintendent, George D. Hess; Assistant Superintendent, James A. Quigley (Captain;) Secretary, Harry H. Fearon; Assistant Secretary, Earl R. Bitner; Treasurer, James A. Quigley; Organist, Miss Laura M. Mapes; Librarians, Miss Leotta Packer, Miss Florence McGhee; Chorister, Fleming P. Trexler; cornetist, George F. Hess; President of Cradle Roll Department, Miss Nellie Linn, Vice President of Cradle Roll Department, Miss Florence McGhee; President of Home Department, Miss Beatrice Linn; Vice President of the Home Department, Miss Olga Sundin. Miss Laura M. Mapes resigned as organist in May, last, for the "same" reason. We were singularly fortunate in filling this vacancy in securing the services of our present organist, Mr. Dean Goodwin, (organist.)

I find from an examination of the records that some of our present officers have served an exceptionally long period of time as follows:

George D. Hess is serving his thirty-fifth year as superintendent.

Captain James A. Quigley is serving his thirtieth year as assistant superintendent and seventeen years as treasurer; (with one year previous as superintendent.)

Fleming P. Trexler is serving his twenty-sixth year as chorister.

Harry H. Fearon is serving his ninth year as secretary, (with two years previous as assistant secretary)

George F. Hess is serving his twenty-second year as cornetist.

As far as I have been able to discover, every organist, regularly elected, in this Sunday school or church, later married. This historical fact I could not possibly omit.

In conclusion, it must be said that those who organized this Sunday school builded better than they knew. About the time of the organization the great boom of the lumber industry in the West Branch Valley of the Susquehanna attracted many people and brought in many new residents. The great forests of virgin timber along the Beech creek were attacked by the woodsman's axe, and the village of Beech Creek began to enjoy considerable prosperity. Interest in the Sunday school grew and its influence immediately was felt throughout the community. The Bald Eagle and Nittany Presbyterian church at Mill Hall recognized the growing Presbyterianism up the valley for the records of that church show that on September 26, 1861, three months and ten days after this Sunday school was organized, George Furst and Evan D. Ashton were elected elders of the church at Mill Hall, as representing the Beech Creek end of that congregation. The usual order of procedure here was reversed. Instead of a Sunday school being organized after the existence of the church, the Sunday school came first and undoubtedly its formation and existence was the primary cause or reason for the organization of this church. The people evidently realized the growing need of a church of their own here. The result was that the lot on which this church was built was purchased of Thomas Winslow in 1865. This was only four years after the organization of the Sunday school. Then they went to work to get a church, and this building was erected and the basement finished in 1867, when the Sunday school was able to hold its sessions in it, although, strange to say, no record of this important event was made.

The Rev. Daniel M. Barber, then pastor of the church in Mill Hall, preached in the Sunday school room regularly thereafter. He was succeeded by Rev. W. E. G. Agnew, who, in the midwinter of 1868, held a revival service of some duration in the room below and many new members were obtained, and these, it appears, kept their membership here, while the old members were still holding to the "mother church" at Mill Hall. By this revival a religious fervor and enthusiasm was created among the church people, which led to their determination to finish this auditorium which had been left in the rough. The effort was a grand success, and we have with us tonight at least two of that small company of men who clubbed together and subscribed a total of $800, which fund allowed the undertaking. The remainder of the money was raised at the dedication of the church as a whole and in a finished and furnished condition, on or about January 1, 1871. The Beech Creek members of the B. E. & N. church in Mill Hall transferred their membership to this church and the Rev. Agnew became the pastor here by a similar arrangement of the services of the pastor as obtains now, but which, later on, was for a few years interrupted by each church having a pastor of its own. The application for a charter was made on the 11th day of September, 1871.

At this time we should not fail to note that this is the Fortieth anniversary of our church's dedication. That it should not go unnoticed, I have thus briefly touched upon its early history and foundation. To the memory of those steadfast Presbyterians who organized this Sunday school which led to the erection of this church, and to those faithful Presbyterians and their friends who gave their labor and their money for the building, this church stands today as a monument, in their honor and praise.

A Bank on Wheels.

An electric automobile, which, when finished, will be used as a bank on wheels, is being constructed by a Reading firm for the Bay State Trust Company, of Boston.

The vehicle will be used to collect deposits in the outlying districts of Boston and will be a convenience to merchants, who often find it unhandy to a bank or are unable to reach the institution before closing hours. In its unfinished state the motar truck has the appearance of an armored car.

The car is strongly constructed so as to resist all attack of highwaymen. It has a 24-horsepower motor and can go 70 miles with one charge.

Aluminium and steel are used for the outside construction, while the interior is finished with African mahogany. It has an one-eighth-inch armor plate floor. At night the interior is illuminated with three dome electric lights. On the left side the car has two windows, and on the right side a door and a window. The rear has two double doors. Doors and windows open and close automatically and are protected by steel plates.

The same firm is working on an electric automobile ambulance for the Newton Hospital, of Boston, Mass. This vehicle is supposed to be germ proof. The interor of the body of the car is of sheet steel and the outside of wood. The color will be black. There will be two beds on each side of the car and a pneumatic mattress in the centre of the floor. The car has two double doors in the rear and one on the right side back of the chauffeur's seat. The doctor's seat is inside the side door entrance. Cabinets for the medicine cases and surgical implements are built under the front seat. The interior will be lighted with three dome electric lights.

Forms of Oath.

A Chinaman has been thus sworn in: On entering the box the witness immediately knelt down and a china saucer having been placed in his hand he broke it. The officer of the court through an interpreter then addressed him thus: "You shall tell the truth and the whole truth, and if you do not tell the truth your soul will be cracked like the saucer." A Mohammedan witness first placed his right hand on the Koran, put the other hand to his forehead and brought the top of his forehead down to the book and touched it with his head. He then looked for some time upon it, and being asked what effect that ceremony was to produce, answered that he was bound by it to speak the truth. The deposition of a Gentoo has been received who touched with his hand the foot of a Brahmin. Buddhists have been sworn by "the three holy existences—Buddha, Dhamma and Pro Sangha—and the devotees of the 22 firmament," and a Parsee on the Zend Avesta, or by binding a "holy cord" round his body.—The Law Times.

Tons of Water.

A grass plant will, in the course of a hot day, exhale its own weight of water, and a young leaf of wheat or rye exposed to the sun may even exhale its own weight in an hour. Experiments summarized by Storer indicate that "more than 300 pounds of water pass through a plant, and are transpired from its leaves for every pound of dry matter fixed or assimilated by the plant." In Wisconsin, King found the mean amount of water used by barley, oats, corn, clover, peas and potatoes in producing a ton of dry matter ranged from 270 tons for corn to 576 tons for clover, "the average for the six crops being nearly 450 tons, or four acre-inches, for each ton of dry matter."—Agucultural Year Book.

A New Definition of Beauty.

The two sisters, Bessie and Mary, each owned a pet bull pup, and they frequently had disputes as to which pup was the prettier—the dogs, by the way, being as ugly as sin and attractive as a pestilence.

One day a visitor asked the old negro servant on the place:

"Sam, which do you think is the best-looking dog—Miss Bessie's or Miss Mary's?"

"Now, boss, dat's a hard queshum," answered Sam judicially. "Miss Mary's is de purties' lookin', but Miss Bessie her hern is putier dan it looks." Popular Magazine.

RECORD OF ADDITIONAL CENTRE COUNTY SOLDIERS OF REVOLUTION AND WAR OF 1812

As the result of considerable effort, involving the most careful searching through old records, Mrs. Harry C. Valentine, of Bellefonte, has succeeded in securing the names of forty-five Centre County soldiers of the Revolution and the War of 1812 which are not inscribed upon the Curtin monument in the public square. Thanks to the splendid results achieved by Mrs. Valentine, these names will be placed upon the monument and thus preserved for all time to come.

On Memorial Day the Bellefonte Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, decorated the graves of Revolutionary soldiers buried in Centre County, the work being supervised by Mrs. Valentine. Each grave was marked with the Betsy Ross flag.

"Many of the graves are not located or marked," said Mrs. Valentine in speaking of the work. "The Bellefonte Chapter, D. A. R., are desirous of obtaining all information possible concerning the last resting place of every soldier of the Revolution in our County."

When the Curtin monument was built one of the most interesting and valuable contributions was that by Mrs. Valentine, who secured and compiled the list of soldiers of not only the Revolutionary War but also of the War of 1812 and the Mexican War.

Further search made by her since that time has been rewarded by the securing of the several additional names and these will be inscribed upon the monument, space for such an emergency having very wisely been provided for.

In order that the historical record may be made complete, "The Republican" publishes the names of soldiers of the Revolutionary War and also the War of 1812 which are on the monument and also the names secured by Mrs. Valentine and which will be inscribed at an early date. The list follows:

Known only to a few intimate friends and only coming to light recently is the interesting news that at the annual meeting of the United States Daughters of 1812, held in Philadelphia some time ago, Mrs. Valentine was appointed Chairman of the State of Pennsylvania on the Committee on Grave Markers of Soldiers of 1812. The appointment is not only an honor but a tribute to the invaluable work of Mrs. Valentine in compiling and thus preserving the priceless records of soldiers of the War of 1812.

ANSWERS EVERY CALL

Bellefonte People Have Found That This is True.

A cold, a strain, a sudden wrench,
A little cause may hurt the kidneys.
Spells of backache often follow,
Or some irregularity of the urine.
A certain remedy for such attacks,
A medicine that answers every call,
Is Doan's Kidney Pills, a true specific.
Many Bellefonte rely on it.
Here is Bellefonte proof.

Mrs. H. I. Taylor, 72 S. Water St., Bellefonte, Pa., Bellefonte, Pa., says: "We think just as highly of Doan's Kidney Pills today as we did two years ago, when we publicly recommended them. They were procured from Green'n Pharmacy Co. and brought relief from backache and kidney trouble. On several occasions since then we have taken Doan's Kidney Pills and they have always been of the greatest benefit. We think so highly of Doans Kidney Pills that we recommend them to other kidney sufferers at every opportunity.."

Another New Magazine.

The Monthly Magazine Section which has been going free with The Pittsburg Sunday Dispatch on the second Sunday of each month has proved such a success that on Sunday, June 25, another magazine, a sort of companion piece, will be started by The Dispatch. It will be called the Family Magazine Section, and will be published on the fourth Sunday of every month. This will give Dispatch readers two magazines a month—not the flimsy weekly affairs so prevalent but genuine monthly magazines, filled with the best literature that brains and money can produce. Richard Harding Davis, Martha McCullough Williams and such lights will be contributors to the first number of the Family Magazine Section. A competition department, open to all readers, will be one of the attractions of the new publication sure to create a sensation. Remember, these two magazines a month (one on the second Sunday and the other the fourth Sunday) go absolutely free with The Sunday Dispatch, which entirely aside from the magazine is the biggest, best and brightest Sunday newspaper published. Exterminating Cut Worms.

An editor of one of the large Pennsylvania daily newspapers wrote to Prof. H. A. Surface, State Zoologist, Harrisburg, that one of his readers had asked what to do "to prevent worms from cutting tomato plants as fast as planted."

As Cut Worms are unusually abundant and destructive this spring, the reply of Prof. Surface may help many persons with needed information.

"Your inquirer does not state what kind of worms are 'cutting his tomato plants,' nor does he in describing how it is possible for this injury to come, detail how the work is done. As it may be one of several kinds of pests, I can not be safe in guessing which one is causing the trouble. The remedies vary with the nature of the pest. However, I presume it is done by the cutworm, which cuts off the plants at night near the surface of the ground.

"While this is one of the most seriously destructive pests throughout the State, destroying nearly all kinds of garden and field plants, yet it is one that is easily controlled if the gardener but knows how. The best remedy for the cut worm, known as the poison bran mixture, is made by mixing one part of paris green with forty or fifty parts of dry bran. After it is thoroughly mixed pour over it some water to which has been added a strong molasses. Use enough of this sweetened water to dampen it slightly.

"In the evening put a small pinch of this—such as one-fourth teaspoon full or less,—at the base of each plant, or drop it along two or three feet apart in the row where they are to be planted. It can also be used in the same way in corn rows in fields to destroy the cut worms there.

"I knew a good Lancaster county farmer who last year cleaned up the cut worms in his entire corn field by mixing the dry poison bran and sowing it by hand broadcast over the surface of the ground, after the corn was planted. He replied to me that he had a good crop of corn without damage by the cut worms, while his neighbors had to replant."

Your Neighbor's Experience.

How you may profit by it. Take Foley Kidney Pills. Geo. N. Barnhart, 919 8th Ave., Altoona, Pa., says: "During the last several years I suffered from backache and kidney trouble. The pains across my kidneys and hips were severe and upon arising I felt tired and worn out. The kidney action was irregular and caused much pain. I got Foley Kidney Pills and took them. Three bottles cured me completely and I am now as well as ever. My kidney action is normal and regular and I owe my recovery entirely to the use of Foley Kidney Pills, which I recommend strongly on every occasion." Sold by C. M. Parrish.

All Over.

One afternoon during an adjournment for the holidays a number of prominent senators and representatives visited Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson.

A venerable negro acted as guide for the party, and the dintinguished callers were much interested in his quaint disquisitions upon the place and its memories. To this old fellow one of the western representatives chanced to address the question whether any battles had been fought in the vicinity of Monticello.

"No, sah," promptly replied the aged darkey; "no, sah, not sence de wah, sah." National Monthly.

Two Was Enough.

Hogan was playing nurse to the twins on the front porch. The twins were annoyed because each wanted exclusive possession of a solitary kitten, and they were yelling.

A neighbor paused at the gate, "Well, Hogan," he asked, "what would you take for them children of yourn?"

Hogan shifted in his chair. "All the money in the wurruld couldn't buy thim," he declared. "But," he added, "I wouldn't give tin cints apiece for any more like thim."

The Crops.

Bradstreet's Report says: Crop advices are irregular, varying with sections reporting. Good reports come from the spring-wheat northwest, except in South Dakota, the north Pacific coast and the Atlantic seaboard. In the surplus winter-wheat, corn and oats states of the west and in the south, west of Alabama, the weather is too dry for best results.

Winter-wheat harvesting has begun, two to three weeks earlier than usual in some states, and this is not esteemed an entirely favorable feature because pointing to maturity being hastened by dry weather. Southwestern threshings are irregular. Injury is reported to the Nebraska crop from want of rain. A three-fourths crop is indicated in that state. Kansas will have a yield slightly in excess of last year. Missouri crop reports are good.

Rain is needed for spring wheat in South Dakota, and in fact throughout the James river valley. Here the reports of dry, hot weather causing wheat to head prematurely are very common.

There is general complaint of oats being a short crop in the southwest, where much of it has been cut for hay.

Western pastures need rain, and the hay crop is reported likely to be short throughout the entire western country.

Corn has done well so far but needs rain in nearly all states reporting. The southern crop is in critical shape for lack of moisture.

The corn crop, owing to long continued dry weather in an excellent state of cultivation, but needs rain from Texas east to Alabama. Late reports are of a breaking of the Texas drought by rains, but oats and corn in that state are reported short. In Tennessee and Alabama all crops need rain. In Georgia, the Carolinas and Virginia recent rains have greatly benefitted all crops and the outlook is good. In the north Atlantic states plenty of rain has fallen and crop prospects have improved.

Higher prices for new potatoes and higher than normal quotations for old stock are taken as confirming the reports of early dry weather damage to that crop.

We are informed that the First National Nurseries, of Rochester, N. Y., desire a lady or gentleman representative in this section. They are well rated in the commercial reports and state that they have one thousand acres in growing stock. Any one out of employment would do well to write them at once and enclose a copy of this notice. 5

How Time Passes.

Time passes. We observe in the marriage license list that the boys who were named for Grover Cleveland are now marrying. It seems only yesterday that their fathers were occupying the postoffices that our party enjoyed during those halcyon days.—Huston Post.

"The Liver Pills act So Naturally and Easily."

Such a statement, coming from the cashier of a bank, shows what confidence responsible people have in these pills. Mr. A. L. Wilson after trying them wrote:

"I have used Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills and also your Anti-Pain Pills, on myself, with good results. The Liver Pills act so naturally and so easily that I scarcely know that I have taken a pill. Frequently being troubled with headache I take an Anti-Pain Pill and get immediate relief in every case."
A. L. Wilson, Sparta, Ill.
Mr. Wilson was for a number of years cashier of the First National Bank of Sparta.

Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills are different from others. Many kinds of liver pills are "impossible" after one trial on account of their harshness. Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills do not act by sheer force but in an easy, natural way, without griping or undue irritation. They are not habit forming.

If the first bottle fails to benefit, your druggist will return the price. Ask him.

SIMPLY SEEKINC CONTROL.

The Philadelphia "Record" several days ago devoted a lengthy editorial to an earnest plea to all factions in the Democratic party in Pennsylvania to compromise their differences, bury the hatchet and get together. In urging this the "Record" made the very candid statement that the regular Democrats and the Keystone Democrats are simply fighting for control and that they should from this time on work together, harmoniously and presenting a united front for 1912, when a President is to be elected.

In the last campaign, when a Governor was to be elected, the Keystone party was used as a medium to aid in trying to defeat the Republican nominee, Mr. Tener. There were many voters in Centre County who sincerely supported the Keystone movement, believing the preached doctrine that the Keystone party was conceived, born and reared solely in the interest of clean politics and good government in Pennsylvania. There were some who were not misled by this argument but who went along the Keystone movement because they saw, or thought they saw, a chance to land some kind of a job if the scheme was successful at the polls. The latter class of fly-by-night politicians invariably drop themselves into the lap of every reform movement that comes along. For this class of political soldiers of fortune honest and sincere men have nothing but contempt.

To those who in all sincerity and good faith supported the Keystone movement because they believed it to be in the interest of good government, the Philadelphia "Record" editorial must come as a shock. The "Record" frankly says that the Keystone managers were and are merely playing a game of politics and that their aim is simply to capture control of the Democratic organization, or party machinery. In other words, the anti-Guffeyites who put up William H. Berry as their candidate for Governor, did so simply because they thought he could be elected and that his election would result in the passing into their hands of the Democratic machinery. Meanwhile honest and well meaning citizens, in Centre County and elsewhere, were told in eloquent language that the sole aim of the Keystone, or anti-Guffey managers, was to purify the politics of Pennsylvania.

The success achieved by the Democratic party last November, largely made possible by Republican disaffection, has spurred on many Democrats to redouble their efforts to elect a Democrat to succeed President Taft in 1912. Figuring that Democratic victory in the country would be followed by a distribution of countless jobs and other toothsome patronage the Democratic managers are exerting themselves to the utmost to bury past differences in the ranks and make possible a concerted effort to insure Republican defeat. In line with this is the Philadelphia "Record" admission as to the prime motive for the organization of the Keystone party in this State. Following up the admission the "Record" is authority for the statement that Colonel Guffey and State Chairman Dewalt are willing to retire and urges that two of the most conspicuous of the Keystoners likewise efface themselves in order that two new men may be agreed upon and supported by both factions or wings of the party.

To those Republicans who unwittingly went over to the Keystone party we offer the suggestion that they think over the admission by the "Record" and figure out for themselves how their confidence and good faith were abused and traded upon in what was merely a political game. We are quite sure that the more they study the matter the more they will be convinced that the Keystone movements, just as was the Lincoln party scheme, the Union party scheme and other similar schemes, was not a sincere desire to obtain reform but a cold-blooded game to advance the personal interests of a few selfish politicians.

Once in a great while a political reform movement is founded upon a sincere desire for reform. As a rule reform movement, especially the brand we have been having in Pennsylvania, are founded upon a high grade of political buncombe. In the end the voter who is led astray by the glamor of reform campaigns invariably learns how he was used by others to pull their chestnuts out of the fire.

WINNING ONE'S WAY.

The recent commencement exercises at State College furnished an incident which should serve as an inspiration to every young man desiring to obtain an education but who is handicapped by a lack of money. So striking was the example and so profound the impression made upon all who were aware of the facts that we are constrained to refer to it in these columns and hold it up to other young men equally ambitious to achieve success and yet lacking in initiative and the courage to launch out in the world for themselves.

The valedictorian of the graduating class of more than two hundred was William R. Rhoads, of Columbia County. The splendid manner in which he acquitted himself was a revelation to the large audience of visitors. With the ease of the experienced lawyer, the language of the finished orator and the presence of one in full possession of himself, this young man reflected glory and honor upon his class and contributed much toward making the exercises such a pleasing success.

So far above the ordinary, in fact, was the manner in which this young man acquitted himself that it led to inquiry by many in the audience who were desirous of learning more about him. Willard R. Rhoads, like many other young men, had reached that point in life where he found it necessary to decide for himself whether he was to be content with a limited education or go to college. He chose the latter and without a dollar started for State College. The odds confronting him were so great that any one less determined would have faltered. Arriving at State College he sought out employment. His only stipulation was that he be given work. Anything offering reward, no matter how little, was eagerly welcomed by him. On more days than one he was found in the role of a servant waiting on tables in a hotel dining room. Odd jobs of all kinds filled in others hours when he was not engrossed in his studies. The task was one that called for heroic courage, but with this young man there was no complaint. From day to day he battled on, working his way along, clothing himself and defraying the expenses which are not to be avoided at any college. The end was one of glorious triumph. It was the winning of the highest honors of one of the largest classes ever graduated at State College. If the sacrifice was great, the reward was equally gratifying. The honor so nobly won was one that money could not buy and one which any of the young man's colleagues would gladly have given anything to obtain.

What William R. Rhoads accomplished at State College may be accomplished by any other young man who fixes his goal upon a high standard and has the courage to fight his way through.

Warriors Mark Doctor Weds.

On Wednesday, June 14, a very pleasant day was spent by the relatives and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Wigton at their farm home, "Cool Run," in Spruce Creek valley, when their daughter, Anna Wade, was given in marriage to Dr. Harry C. Wilson, of WarriorsMark. The wedding party came down stairs to Mendelssohn's wedding march at 12 o'clock noon, Miss Mary Campbell, pianist. Dr. Wilson and Robert Wigton came first, followed by the eight maids, Misses Caroline Isenberg, of Huntingdon; Julius Robeson, of Hollidaysburg; Margaret Kloss, Tyrone; Ruth Kase, of Williamsport; Claire Tussey, of Salina; Eleanor Morrow, of Sinking valley, and Mabel Neff, of Petersburg, and Priscilla Spear, of Pittsburg. The house decorations were mountain laurel and Virginia creeper festoons and the maids wore white and carried armfuls of laurel. Elizabeth Wigton was maid of honor and wore white point-de-sprit trimmed in green and carried pink roses. The bride wore white net over silk and carried white roses. She was attended by her father and the Episcopal ceremony was used by the minister, Rev. R. M. Campbell. The wedding party assembled on the porch and after congratulations there a real feast was served to the 130 guests, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mattern escorted the bride and groom to the train in their automobile and quite a party assembled to see them off on a trip.—Altoona Tribune.

Millheim Nurse Weds.

Miss Lydia Musser, a trained nurse whose home is at Millheim, on Monday was married to J. C. McCloskey, of Downey, Idaho. Mr. McCloskey arrived in Bellefonte on Monday, accompanied by his bride-to-be and Ward Gramley, of Millheim, and going to the Court House secured the necessary license. The wedding ceremony was performed at Millheim that same day, Rev. Walter J. Dice officiating. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. McCloskey departed for Washington and other points. They plan making their home in Idaho.

MRS. R. B. TAYLOR DEAD

Wife of Well Known Contractor Passes Away on Tuesday Evening.

Coming as a shock to the community, many persons not having been aware of the serious charactes of her illness, was the death on Tuesday evening, at 8 o'clock, at her late home, in Spring Street, of Margaret Cunningham Taylor, wife of R. B. Taylor, the well known contractor of Bellefonte. Her death was due to diabetes which in the end developed blood poisoning. On Monday the attending physicians realized that Mrs. Taylor could not live. Although extremely low, she lingered not only through the day and night but until the following evening, when her sufferings ceased and she peacefully passed into the Great Beyond.

Making her death all the more sad is the fact that four small children are left motherless and taken from a devoted husband is one who was a loyal, loving wife and companion. The children are Anna, Eleanor, Robert and Bettie. Surviving also are the following brothers: Frank Cunningham, of Chicago; Edward, of Linden Hall; J. Mitchell and George, of Bellefonte; Mertie, of New York, and William, of Beaver Falls.

Deceased was a daughter of the late Mertie and Elizabeth Cunningham and was born in Bellefonte forty years ago. She was married to Mr. Taylor, fifteen years ago. Surrounded by a family of little children she lived not only with but for them and her home life was always such as to win the admiration of all who knew her. She had been in ill health for probably a year or more, but it was not until about ten days ago that her condition became serious. Endowed with a wonderful will power she clung to life until the last spark had fled, only giving up when the last vestige of strength had been sapped by the ravages of disease.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday morning, at 10 o'clock from the Roman Catholic church, of which the deceased was a devout member.

Mrs. D. L. Dennis Dead.

Mrs. Eliza, wife of D. L. Dennis, died at her late home at Pine Grove Mills on Friday afternoon, last, at 2.40 o'clock, after an extended illness which was caused by a fall resulting in a fractured hip. In March, last, she suffered a partial stroke of paralysis, followed by a second stroke a few days ago. Before her marriage she was Eliza Shirk Bloom, the youngest daughter of the late John and Elizabeth Bloom, of Bloomdorf, and was born at Earlystown September 29, 1835. She was married to D. L. Dennis 48 years ago. She was a life-long member of the Lutheran church. Surviving are three sisters: Mrs. David Fye, Mrs. Mary Gates and Mrs. Jefferson Gates. Burial was made on Saturday morning at 10.30 o'clock, Rev. J. S. Shultz officiating.

Death of Young Woman.

A beautiful young life was brought to a sudden close and her parents plunged into grief when on Tuesday afternoon, about 4 o'clock, Edith, only daughter of John and Minnie Klinger, died at her late home, near Shingletown. Deceased was aged 17 years. She recently underwent a severe surgical operation, from which she never fully recovered. She was the idol of the family and by a wide circle of friends her death is sincerely mourned. Surviving, in addition to the parents, are two brothers, William and Harry. She was a member of the Lutheran church. Funeral services will be held tomorrow (Friday) morning at Boalsburg, conducted by Rev. Mr. Stonecypher, pastor of the Lutheran church.

Death of Frank Atherton.

Frank P. Atherton, a son of Mrs. Francis Atherton, of State College, died on Friday night, last, at his late home in Philadelphia. He had been in ill health for some time. The body was removed to State College, where funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock. Interment was made in the Pine Hall cemetery. Deceased was aged 43 years and until his health failed was quite successful as a musician and composer. Surviving are his mother, a widow and the following brothers and sisters: Charles, Mrs. Albert Buckout, whose home is in Massachusetts, and Mrs. C. Emory Govier, of State College.

Death at Howard.

Miss Helen Schenck, only daughter of Frederick Schenck, died at 7 o'clock on Monday morning, last, at her late home at Howard, aged 26 years. She had been in ill health for several years. Her mother preceded her to the grave eleven years ago. Funeral services were held at Howard today at 10 o'clock, interment being made in the Schenck cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Faust, pastor of the Reformed church, of which, the deceased was an active and consistent member. Surviving are her father and one brother, Christian, also of Howard.

John A. Williams, of Port Matilda, one of the hustling corps of representatives of the American Book Company, was a Bellefonte visitor on Tuesday. While business was his chief mission in town he found time to mix in a little pleasure by moving about and looking up old friends.

Try Liggetts Orangeade—at Green's.

Shot by Jilted Lover.

The town of Woodland was given quite a little excitment on Saturday night by the shooting of Agnes Gingery, aged about 20 years, by a young man whom she had jilted. While she was entertaining another young man her assailant shot through a window at her, one of two bullets entering her thigh. The girl was removed to the Philipsburg hospital. The young man who did the shooting was lodged in the Clearfield County jail. He gave his name as Harry Dickson. It is believed that the girl's condition is not serious.

Death of Robert Kern.

Robert Kern died at Tusseyville on Thursday night of last week and was buried on Saturday in the Union cemetery in Bellefonte. Deceased was born May 9, 1841, making his age 70 years, 1 month and 6 days. Surviving are four children: Mrs. Milton Straub and Mrs. Walter Baney, of Bellefonte; Mrs. Harvey Stine, of State College, and Louisa Kern, of Indiana. Mr. Kern was a man whose many good qualities won for him a large number of warm and admiring friends and by all his death is sincerely mourned.

Bellefonte Council disposed of quite a little routine business at its meeting on Monday evening, last. Contractor R. B. Taylor was paid $500 on account on his bill for constructing concrete curbing along the paved sections of Linn and Allegheny Streets. With visions of Curtin Street some day being paved, Clarence Garbrick, who recently secured from Borough Engineer Meyer a new grade for his sidewalk, appeared and asked that the grade by properly entered on the minutes of Council.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucons surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O. contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

J. F. Weiland, of Linden Hall, passed through town with his family early Sunday morning to spend the day at Grandpa Miller's home, in the Glades, and also to attend church at Graysville.

D. H. Young and wife, formerly of this place but now of Marklesburg, are visiting friends in this valley. It is 26 years since they left here, but both are looking well although their locks are somewhat silvered.

Another old veteran has answered the last roll call. A telegram received Sunday morning from Fort Scott, Kansas, told of the death of Joseph Bailey at that place about 5 o'clock on Saturday afternoon. He had been ill several years, having been afflicted with paralysis. He was a son of John and Nancy Bailey and was born in the Glades, where H. W. McCracken now lives, May 29, 1838. He spent his boyhood days on the farm and when the war broke out he enlisted in the Scott Guards, May, 1861, later as Co. E, 45th Penna Vols. He served through the war and in 1867, with Captain John Beck, of the same company, went West, locating near Fort Scott. His wife and two sons, John and Steward, survive, as do also the following brothers and sisters: Armstrong Bailey, of Oregon; G. W., of Kansas; Samuel H. Bailey, of Boalsburg; W. S., of State College; Warren, of Freeport, Illinois; Mrs. Ross Gregory, of Wolf's Mills, and Mrs. John Hewitt, of Kansas City. Ex-County Commissioner J. G. Bailey was also a brother.

Miss Bess Brownlee and a friend, Clair Shilling, of Lock Haven, spent Sunday at the home of the former's sister, Mrs. J. B. Stere.

Lloyd Sanderson's little 8-year-old daughter had her leg fractured on Wednesday of last week. Dr. Irwin reduced the fracture.

Mrs. Mattie Musser is remodeling her home. New concrete walk, new weatherboarding and fresh paint will make it look like a brand new place.

Rev. Dr. Joseph Kelley, of Sunbury, preached a very able sermon in the Presbyterian church on Sunday afternoon, last. Dr. Kelley will again preach here on Sunday, July 2.

Listen, did anybody ever see a boardwalk made out of sawdust and shavings? Well, if you never did, we have a very fine sample here. Inquire of Charlie, he can give you the particulars.

On Tuesday of last week, Mrs. Claud Peters, while doing some work in the barn, frightened one of the horses. She was badly trampled by the horse and carried into the house in an unconscious condition. Dr. Irwin was summoned but he fortunately found that her injuries were not serious, aside from a dislocated wrist.

H. D. Lindemuth has got his new Ford runabout and it is a dandy. Lindy is steering it through our streets with the skill of a veteran. But, say, I pity the poor dogs, for they are run almost to death trying to keep up with the machine. It might be a good idea for Lindy to put an extra seat in the car for the dogs. Lindy thinks the world and all of his dogs and every place he goes, they, like Mary's lamb, go too. Lindy has confided to the auto that it is a case of "love me, love my dogs," so that perhaps after all the extra seat will become a reality.

At the residence of the following concrete walks have been laid and each person is deserving to be enrolled on the Honer List: Mrs. Samuel Brugger, William Turner, Mrs. J. B. Stere, Unionville Borough and School Board, J. C. Stere & Sons, Methodist Episcopal church, William McEwen, A. F. Hazle, G. W. Holt, H. E. Holtzworth, Presbyterian parsonage, Mrs. Lenna Lansberry, J. C. Smith, Edward Iddings, Grange Hall, Abednego Williams, Andrew Rhown and Mrs. Miller.

Dr. John B. Becker and wife, of Philadelphia, who were married in that city about a week ago, arrived at the home of the groom's mother, Mrs. Samuel Brugger, on Tuesday night, June 13. Dr. Becker is a graduate of the Medico-Chi college and expects to locate in Philadelphia. On Thursday, June 15, a very pretty reception was given in their honor at the home of Mrs. Brugger. Some fine music was rendered by Dr. Becker, who is an expert in that line, also by Miss Alice Henshie, Miss Eloise Buck, Miss Flora Brugger and J. E. Hall. Ice cream, cake and coffee were served. We wish Dr. and Mrs. Becker a long, happy and prosperous married life. Those who were present included Mr. and Mrs. L. James, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brugger and daughters, Flora and Margaret, Mrs. John Askins, Daniel Hall, J. E. Hall, Dr. and Mrs. W. U. Irwin and son, Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Holtzworth, Miss Katherine Smith, Misses Mary and Eloise Buck, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Peters, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Stere, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Stere, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Holderman, Miss Alice Henshie, Miss Bess Pratt, Miss Verna Moran, George Moran, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Rumberger, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. J. Harold Fisher, Chapman Underwood, Miss Myra Underwood, J. W. Smith, Mrs. Melisa Bing and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Holt, all of this place; Mrs. Media Thompson, of Johnstown; Mr. and Mrs. M. I. Gardner and son, Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Spangler, Miss Molly Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Rumberger, of Bellefonte, and Miss Melisa Sensor, of Reynoldsville.

Blanchard.

The Baptist Sunday School held a special Children's Day service on Sunday evening last.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bechdel, who has been very ill for some time, is somewhat improved at this writing.

Mrs. William H. Austin, accompanied by her daughters and her youngest son, is enjoying a two weeks' visit at Johnsonburg.

Captain James A. Quigley, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Katherine, attended the commencement exercises at State College.

Mrs. Milford Gardner and Charles and Clay Heverley are visiting at the home of the Heverley boys' aunt, Mrs. Sorgum, at Swissvale.

A crew of carpenters, under the supervision of Contractor Charles W. White, are making rapid progress on Edgar Bechdel's new livery barn. Mr. White recently received a carload of red cedar shingles from Washington State.

The Liberty township school board met and reorganized on Saturday evening, the following officers being elected to serve until December 1, next: Frank Courter, president; William H. Austin, secretary; J. Albert Bitner, treasurer. This marks the fifth successive term as secretary for Mr. Austin. The board will meet on Monday, July 3, to elect teachers for the several schools in the township. The members of the board are David Bechdel, Nathan Spangler, William Schenck, Mr. Courter, Mr. Austin and Mr. Bitner.

An interesting and most enjoyable function was a recent meeting of the Ladies Home and Foreign Missionary societies, held at the home of Mrs. James L. King. In addition to the members there were present a few specially invited guests. A splendidly prepared dinner was served at one o'clock, after which a joint meeting of the societies was held under the direction of Miss Blanche Kunes. "Alaska" was the subject discussed by the Home Missionary Society, while the Foreign Missionary Society had as its topic, "Latin America." Two papers read were especially interesting. They were "Latin America," by Mrs. Rebecca F. Glossner, and "Mexico," by Mrs. Sidney Fearon.

BOTTORF—GARNER

Popular Young Nurse Becomes Bride of Bellefonte Business Man.

A quiet but pretty wedding was that at noon on Tuesday, at the home of Mrs. John Olewine, in Spring Street, when Miss Margaret C. Garner became the bride of Willis M. Bottorf, the beautiful ring ceremony of the Lutheran church being used and with Rev. Fred W. Barry, pastor of the Bellefonte Lutheran church, officiating. The engagement of Mr. Bottorf and Miss Garner was announced a short time ago, but few of their friends knew the exact time fixed for the wedding. After the nuptial ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Bottorf drove to Milesburg, where they boarded a train for Atlantic City and Washington for a honeymoon of ten days or two weeks.

The groom is a popular and well known young business man, for the last nine years having been identified with the John Olewine Hardware Store. His bride has a host of friends in Bellefonte. She was for a time engaged as a nurse in the Bellefonre hospital. On their return to Bellefonte Mr. and Mrs. Bottorf will reside in Spring Street, where they will be at home to their numerous friends.

"Full Crew" Bill Signed.

Disregarding the protest of the officials of every railroad company in the State, Governor Tener this week signed the "full crew" bill, passed by the recent Legislature. The bill requires that railroad companies place at least six men on every train of more than thirty cars and also imposes other obligations. The railroads vigorously fought the bill, contending that it would cost them over $2,000,000 additional every year for maintenance. Trains consisting of four or more passenger, mail or express cars must have at least five men, not including porters or Pullman men. The rear car of a mail or express train, must be equipped with exit free from obstruction, a platform of thirty inches in width and with guard rails and steps. For each violation of the new requirements the offending railroad must pay $100.

The Governor also signed the Alter private bank bill, providing for licensing and examination by the State of all private banks and requiring a bond of not less than $10,000 or more than $50,000. Private banks which have been in existence in the same place for seven years are exempted. Other bills signed included the following:

Creating bureau of professional education as subdepartment of State Department of Public Instruction.

Regulating election of Councilmen in boroughs under the 1909 constitutional amendments.

Authorizing County Commissioners to erect foot bridges in lieu of wagon bridges when such bridges will accommodate public.

Making a schedule to carry into effect constitutional amendments to be voted on in November.

Regulating election of poor directors.

Authorizing release on parole of persons not convicted of infamous crimes instead of imposing sentences and for appointment of probation officers.

Allowing Quarter Sessions Courts to release prisoners of parole from jails and workhouses.

Providing for appointment by county courts of auditors of accounts of poor districts composed of one municipal district or municipality within but less extensive than said county.

Argument Court.

Judge Orvis conducted argument court on Tuesday and Wednesday, quite a number of cases being presented. A petition was filled in the juvenile court declaring a 9-years-old daughter of Mrs. Lucy McCullough incorrigible and asking for her removal to an institution. The child was called and examined, after which Judge Orvis denied the petition and gave the child into the keeping of its grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Peace.

Dedicate John Morton Pew.

At Washington Memorial Chapel, Valley Forge, on Monday, June 19, evacuation day was celebrated by the dedication of a pew to the memory of John Morton, whose vote placed Pennsylvania on the side of independence.

The pew was the gift of Delaware Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, whose regent made the presentation, and the acceptance was by Rev. W. Herbert Burk, rector and founder of the chapel.

The inscriptions on the two brass plates on the pew are:—

To the glory of God and in memory of
John Morton,
Signer of the Declaration of Independence
Born 1725. Died 1777.
Member of the Provincial
Assembly of Pennsylvania.
Speaker of the Assembly
1775—1776.
Delegate to the Stamp Act Congress
1765
Associate Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania
1774.

Member of the Continental Congress.
1774—1776.
By the vote of John Morton
Pennsylvania was placed on the side of Independence.

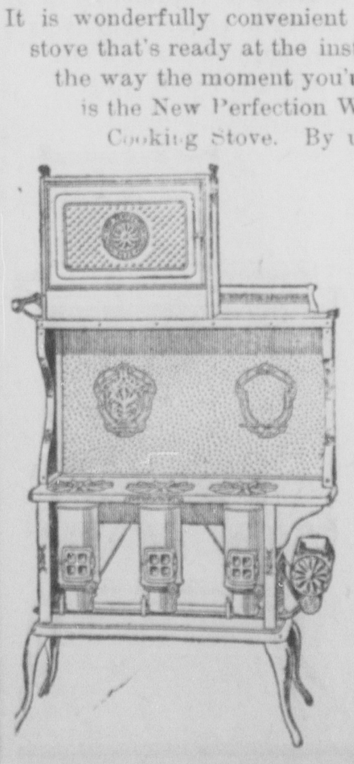
Put This Stove In Your Kitchen

It is wonderfully convenient to do kitchen work on a stove that's ready at the instant wanted, and out of the way the moment you're done. Such a stove is the New Perfection Wick Blue Flame Oil Cooking Stove. By using it you avoid the continuous overpowering heat of a coal fire and cook with comfort, even in Dog Days.



The New Perfection
Wick (Blue Flame)
OIL STOVE

is so constructed that it does not add perceptibly to the heat of the room. It differs from all other oil stoves in its substantial CABINET TOP, with shelves for warming plates and keeping the cooked food hot, and drop shelves for holding small cooking utensils. Has every convenience, even to bars for towels. Three sizes

The Scrap Book

Rather Liked the Affront.

Edward B. Clark, the Washington coorrespondent, was the agent for a Chicago paper at Pine Ridge at the time of the Indian uprising there. After the difficulty had been composed Clark got a telegram from his paper asking him to get an interview with Young Man Afraid of His Horses, a chief who had taken part.

CAME BACK WITH FOUR MORE.

Clark took an interpreter and went to the chief's tepee. The chief, still in his war paint, received him in the tepee and asked Clark to eat. Clark ate. Then, wanting to do the right thing and not knowing whether it was proper to tip a big Indian chief, Clark dropped three silver dollars into the hand of the chief's wife, and for fear the paint streaked but dignified warrior might consider this an affront he had his interpreter say to the chief, "In my country a compliment to a man's wife is thought a double compliment."

The interpreter repeated this sentiment to Young Man Afraid of His Horses. That dignitary grunted, rose, left the tepee and came back with four more wives.—Saturday Evening Post.

Life's Mirror.

There are loyal hearts, there are spirits brave,
There are souls that are pure and true;
Then give to the world the best you have,
And the best will come back to you.

Give love and love to your heart will flow,
A strength in your utmost need.
Have faith and a score of hearts will show
Their faith in your word and deed.

For life is the mirror of king and slave.
'Tis just what you are and do
Then give to the world the best you have,
And the best will come back to you.

A Trifling Incident.

An Irishman went into a barber shop, and the unsteady gait with which he approached the chair showed that he had been imbibing of the produce of the still. He wanted his hair cut, and while the barber was getting him ready went off into a sleep. His head kept bobbing from one side to the other, and at length the barber in making a snip cut off the lower part of his ear. The barber gasped, then jumped about and howled, and a crowd of neighbors rushed in. Finally the demonstration became so great that it began to attract the attention of the man in the chair, and he opened one eye and said, "Wh-wh-at's the matter wid yez?"

THE BARBER GASPED.

"Good Lord!" said the barber. "I've cut off the whole lower part of your ear."

"Have ye? Ah, thin, go on wid yer business. It was too long anyhow!"

An Oversight.

"I trust you slept comfortably and had everything you needed," said Sandy Macpherson's hostess one cold morning last winter.

"Ay, weel enough," replied her guest, a venerable Scot, "but I dinna see the guid of yon bottle in the bed."

"Why, wasn't the water hot?" the hostess asked in surprise.

"Verra hot," responded Macpherson, "but ye forgot to put anything in it."

Expecting Too Much.

"A rather finicky old chap who was traveling off the beaten paths struck a somewhat shabby hotel, which was principally used by workmen from a nearby construction camp. He paid a dollar in advance for room and breakfast, the clerk remarking caustically that "a suit case isn't a guarantee that the bill will be paid, especially when a guy has a room on the second floor." And just before midnight the indignant Mr. Smith piled down into the hotel office, almost dressed.

"What's the matter?" asked the sleepy clerk, shifting his pipe to the other corner. "Anything wrong?"

"Wrong!" gasped Mr. Smith, trembling. "Wrong! Confound your old dump, anyhow! I saw a pair of rats as big as hedgehogs fighting in the middle of my room."

"Huh," said the clerk, closing his eyes and preparing to return to sleep. "What do you want for a dollar—a bullfight?"—Herbert Corey in Cincinnati Times-Star.

Out of His Element.

Bob Ingersoll was once ridiculing a sermon he had heard in Italy on the miracle of St. Anthony preaching to the fishes, which, the better to listen to the pious discourse, held their heads out of the water.

"I can credit the miracle," said Bishop Potter, "if you were at church."

"I certainly was there," replied the famous infidel.

"Then there was at least one fish out of water."

TAYLOR FLAYED JONES.

And Then, to Get Square, the Revivalist Told a Story.

Here is a well authenticated story of Sam P. Jones, revivalist and lecturer:

Jones and ex-Governor Bob Taylor, now a United States senator from Tennessee, seldom met professionally in public. They were two such amazingly good drawing cards that few Chautauqua managements ever felt able to afford both of them in one day. However, one management made the plunge, and the two witty southerners found themselves on the same platform.

Taylor introduced Jones. He flayed Jones unmercifully, leaving little cuticle on him. The crowd laughed heartily and waited for Jones to take his revenge.

Jones arose. He was always cool as ice. This time was no exception. The audience held its collective breath. The scathing was about to begin.

Jones, however, said nothing to indicate that he had even heard what Taylor had said. The crowd felt that at last Jones was overmatched. He delivered his lecture and made the usual hit. Yet there was much surprise that he had not replied to Taylor.

Just as Jones finished his set talk he turned and looked at Taylor. Then he drawled out, with a jerk of his thumb toward Taylor:

"Whenever I see that man anywheh I'm reminded of a little dawg I used to know down in Gawgy. That dawg lived close to the railroad track, and every evening when the fast express train went shooting through that little dawg ran out and tried to eat that train. Every night he would seem to say: 'Last night I didn't get it, but I've figured out since why it was. I'll get it this time, I'm just so hungry for an express train!' Everybody around there knew that dawg would be killed some time by that train. Bound to. Couldn't help it.

"One hot summeh evening that train came along fasteh than eveh. It was just one big, noisy cloud of dust. That little dawg ran out as usual and ran along by the tracks. He was sucked in by the draft from the train and disappeared under the trucks. Everybody said: 'Theh he went—fool dawg! We always knew he'd get it. Now he's killed, all right.'

"But when that train had gone theh came that little dawg trotting back up the track. The train hadn't killed him at all—only made a bobtailer of him."

Presently the audience began to see the joke in sections, and before long it was in a scream of laughter.—Strickland W. Gillilan in Chicago News.

He Got Even.

Justus Miles Forman once in writing a story for Harper's Magazine used the name of an artist friend for the character of a chap who fell in love with a peasant girl in the Milanese. "It made all his friends roar with glee," said Mr. Forman. "But he got even with me by making a large twenty-four sheet poster for a musical comedy. There was a lady, the star, stepping out of a stage door and a long line of Johnnies waiting for her with silly smirks and bunches of violets. And every Johnnie was a portrait of me."

A Witty Retort.

As is generally the case with people who have nothing to say worth hearing, a conceited drummer talked a great deal, to the evident disgust of a number of his commercial friends who were dining at a country hotel. When cheese was served it was of a decided "lively" brand, much to the delight of the irrepressible. He attacked it with great gusto, remarking, "I'm like Samson—slaying them by the thousand!"

"Yes," replied a quick witted diner at the end of the table, "and with the same weapon too!"

Painfully Polite.

A Washington trolley car was getting under way when two women, rushing from opposite sides of the street to greet each other, met right in the middle of the car track and in front of the car. There the two stopped and began to talk. The car stopped, too, but the women did not appear to realize that it was there. Certain of the passengers, whose heads were immediately thrust out of the windows to ascertain what the trouble was, began to make sarcastic remarks, but the two women heeded them not.

STOPPED AND BEGAN TO TALK.

Finally the motorman showed that he had a saving sense of humor. Leaning over the dashboard, he inquired in the gentlest of tones:

"Pardon me, ladies, but shall I get you a couple of chairs?"—Lippincott's.

WOMAN IS BALLOONIST.

Charlotte Granville Wants to Try For the Lahm Cup.

MISS CHARLOTTE GRANVILLE.

Miss Charlotte Granville, a young Englishwoman who has made fifty or more balloon ascensions, wants to test her skill and endurance against the same qualities possessed by American men. In other words, she wants to try for the cups offered for long distance flights in gas bags.

Miss Granville is duly licensed as a pilot and is a member of the Royal Aero Club of England. She can't take part in the James Gordon Bennett race because the entries for that contest must be made by a club, but she is eager to make a flight in competition with Messrs. Hawley and Post, who won the cup last year and established a world's record when they flew from St. Louis into the wilds of Canada.

Ballooning possesses a great fascination after one tries the sport, Miss Granville says, and she is surprised that more American women have not tried it. She does not regard the danger as being greater than that taken daily by occupants of automobiles. The delights of sailing through the air she describes as much greater than those of bouncing over a country road in a touring car.

Miss Granville began her ballooning as a pupil of C. S. Rolls, the young English nobleman who was killed while making an aeroplane flight in England last summer.

White Tulle Bridal Veil.

Prospective June brides will be interested in the accompanying illustration of a bridal veil. It is of tulle decorated with orange blossoms. Fashions in bridal veils are never radical, but the one shown is up to date and could not help but please any bride and add to her attractiveness.

Useful Present For a Bride.

Instead of the usual shower friends of a bride who was recently married and went at once to housekeeping gave her a box labeled "the things you have forgotten." In it there were balls of different kinds of twine in holders by which to hang them and with scissors to cut the string, a bottle of fountain pen ink, balls of various widths of tape, cards of buttons, including shoe buttons and the cord by which to sew them on (the kind with tags on the ends), several lead pencils, pads of paper of different sizes, a corkscrew, a tack hammer with claw, tags and labels for bottles, boxes and packages, spools of thread of various sizes and papers of needles, a bottle of mucilage and a tube of glue, several sheets of wrapping paper and some other everyday needfuls.

Chiropodist With a Grievance.

Miss Emily A. Chapman is a chiropodist of Los Angeles who was rejected by a chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. She maintains that it was because she earns her living in such a way. Miss Chapman was formerly a member of the Quaker City chapter in Philadelphia, but could not get three women from that chapter to indorse her when she went west. She says she will bring the matter before the national body, and the result is being watched with interest. Members of the D. A. R. say there must have been some other reason than that assigned, as many of the daughters work for a living.

Miss Leathers Weds.

Cards were received in Bellefonte last week, too late for publication in "The Republican", announcing the marriage on Wednesday, June 14, of Miss Cora Emma Leathers, daughter of Mrs. Anna E. Leathers, of Mt. Eagle, and John Randolph Bartruff, at one time a resident of Bellefonte but in recent years located at Waltham, Mass. The wedding ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Howard Butler, at Ardmore, near Philadelphia. The plans for the happy event were known in advance to only a few friends of the contracting parties. Upon their return from their wedding tour Mr. and Mrs. Bartruff will make their home at "Old Oaks Farm", near Duncannon, Pa. The groom was some years ago engaged in business in Bellefonte and was well known among the residents of this place. The bride is a splendid young woman and has a host of admiring friends who wish her much happiness in her new life.

Wedded at Philipsburg.

Dr. John B. Lowman, one of the most prominent young practitioners of Johnstown, and Miss Ray Test, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland M. Test, of Philipsburg, Center county, were quietly married at 8:30 o'clock, on Wednesday morning on last week at Philipsburg, by Rev. Rufus J. Miller, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of that place. The couple were unattended and shortly after the wedding Dr. and Mrs. Lowman left for Los. Angeles, Cal., where Dr. Lowman will attend the annual meeting of the American Medical Association as one of the representatives of the Pennsylvania State Medical Society. En route to Los Angeles they spent a week at the Grand Canon of Arizona and after leaving Los Angeles will visit through California and the Pacific coast, returning via Yellowstone Park, where they will spend some time. On their return late in July Dr. and Mrs. Lowman will occupy their new home in Westmont.

Unclaimed Letters.

The following letters remain unclaimed at the Bellefonte post office for the last week: Mrs. Grace Bonard, Indian Valley Poultry Yards, Henry Kline (2), N. E. Leech, Harry Lats, P. W. A. Middleton, Mrs. Jennie Miller, F. E. Miller, Howard L. Steiger. Persons calling for these letters will kindly explain to the postmaster that the same have been advertised in "The Republican."

Was Real.

Mrs. Gnaggs—I'll never forget the night you proposed to me. You acted like a perfect fool.

Mr. Gnaggs—That wasn't acting.

Knew he was Well Off.

"Why not set your cap for that young fellow? He's single and well off."

"Yes; he's single, but he knows he's well off."

UNIVERSITY OF FRANCE.

Essentially the Same Today as When Established by Napoleon.

In the United States there are many universities which are free from state control, but in France there is only one university, and it is an absolute instrument of the state. It is true that there are schools of higher learning, which were founded in 1870 as universities, but five years afterward the title was withdrawn, and they are now called "instituts." They are five in number and are located in Paris, Lille, Lyons, Toulouse and Angers.

But the University of France is an entirely different organization. It is the official school. It is centralized in Paris and has under it a vast multitude of establishments, faculties, college and primary schools, distributed over the whole surface of the country. Directly or indirectly they all depend on the government.

The university was established by Napoleon, and in spite of certain modifications which it has undergone during years it is the same today in its essential elements as the day he founded it. Just as he established the entire civil administration, with its prefects, subprefects, judges, ministers of finance, so he created in 1806 this vast educational organization, with its countless professors, who control the entire intellectual training of France.—America.

RAILWAYS AND DOGS.

Alike In One Respect In Sardinia, That Both Are Perils.

Sardinia is an island of many perils. One of them, we gather from the experience of Mr. Crawford Flitch, the author of "Mediterranean Moods," is the railways. "The engine," he says, "is continually making frantic dashes for the scenery. On the line to Tortoli I made four journeys and had three accidents. On one occasion, after a car had been wrecked, the various employees gathered round the wreckage and spent the remainder of a sultry afternoon in bitterly disputing the proper apportionment of blame for the accident. As it was impossible to proceed that evening I spent the night at the railway station and enjoyed a comfort that I found nowhere else in the island."

Another peril is the dogs, who do not hesitate to attack a stranger, even when he is walking peaceably upon the highroad. "The breed is particularly ferocious, and it is said that the peasants have a way of stimulating their ferocity by tying a bladder filled with blood to the neck of a dummy man and encouraging the animal to spring at the neck and tear open the bladder."

A Famous Paris Sign.

Paris is a city of curious signboards, one of the most remarkable ones representing a tobacconist's sign at 55 Rue du Chateau-d'Eau, which has been here ever since 1870. It is riddled with holes made by the bullets of the Prussians, and the occupant of the shop states that so far as he is aware it is the only public relic of the Franco-Prussian war in evidence in the streets of Paris today.

"My sign," he added, "brings me plenty of customers. You have no idea, monsieur, of the number of English and American tourists who pass this way and drop into my place for a cigar or a box of matches merely in order to have a word with me about my bullet riddled enseigne. I wouldn't part with it for anything."—Wide World Magazine.

Getting the Exact Spot.

An emergency call from a policeman for a tape measure kept two women waiting in the dressmaker's parlor for five minutes. There were other tape measures there which the dressmaker might have used, but she was too busy pondering the circumstance that had suddenly converted her into an ally of the police department. Presently the policeman returned the tape.

"What did you want it for?" she asked.

"To help find the right place to shoot a horse with a broken leg," he said. "The vital spot is just three inches above that little swirl in his forehead where a dozen crowns seem to meet. I am not very good at guessing, so we thought it safest to find the exact spot with a tape measure."—New York Sun.

Music of the Drum.

All musical authorities have agreed that when used in a proper way the drum is thoroughly musical. The common snare or side drum is freely used in musical composition. A large number of drummers performing simultaneously out of doors produce good music. In this connection Berlioz, the composer, pointed out that a sound that was insignificant when heard singly, such as the clink of one or two muskets at shoulder arms or the thud as the butt comes to the ground at ground arms, becomes brilliant and attractive if performed by a thousand men together.

Crumpled Them.

We observe that the man's fingers are all twisted and bent into the most uncouth shapes.

"Poor fellow!" we say to our friend. "Evidently he is a victim of rheumatism."

"No," our friend explains. "He is deaf and dumb and has been trying to talk Scotch dialect on his fingers."—Life.

Would Have to Move.

"John, the janitor's son whipped Jimmy today."

"Well, that's no great calamity. Suppose Jimmy had whipped the janitor's son!"—Pittsburg Post.

SEARCHLIGHT RAYS.

The Effect When the Beams Penetrate a Foggy Atmosphere.

Nearly everybody is familiar with the beam of a searchlight and knows why the beam is visible, while light itself cannot be seen unless it strikes the eye, its visibility being due to particles in the air which really do reflect the light to the eye. On a foggy night, if one will notice, the beam seems to come abruptly to an end if the light is pointed upward. It does this instead of gradually fading away into nothing, as it does pointed horizontally on a uniformly foggy night.

The thing is rather puzzling to one first seeing it, but the reason is not far to seek. Where the end of the beam seems to be there is the place the fog ends, for the beam cannot be visible to us unless there are small particles in its path. This is of great help to sailors in judging of the state of the weather, for they can tell exactly how thick the frog is, or, rather, how deep it is. They can also tell by throwing the light horizontally whether the fog is universal or occurring only in patches, for if extending to a great distance the beam gradually gets dimmer and dimmer, but if in patches the beam is lighter in patches, and if it goes through a place with no fog at all that part of the beam is black or invisible. —New York Tribune.

COFFEE AND TEA.

The Bean Improves With Age, While the Leaf Deteriorates.

Coffee beans improve with age. Five year old coffee is better than the new crop and fetches a higher price in the market. In two years coffee will lose 10 per cent in weight, but it will increase more than 10 per cent in price. Coffee should be used quickly after roasting. If the brown beans appear oily the oil should be dried off in a quick, hot oven; otherwise it will undergo a chemical change which will affect the flavor.

While coffee beans dry with age, teas absorb moisture even when in zinc lined chests. Tea likewise deteriorates with age. It doesn't lose strength so much as it does its drawing quality, which is another name for flavor or bouquet. So careful are the tea packers to insure an entire absence of moisture from the tea when being placed in the zinc or lead lined chests that they have the tea leaves sun dried and then heated before packing. The tea goes into the chests too hot to handle with bare hands and is sealed up in air tight packages before it has time to cool and before the slightest suggestion of moisture reaches it.—New York World.

A Word For Sugar.

Pure candy is good for children. Pure sugar is good for grown people. Of course there are exceptions to every rule. If the doctor prescribes a diet and orders a patient to refrain from sweets the patient is bound to obey his adviser. What is the use of calling a physician and paying him for suggestions if the latter are treated with indifference? People in ordinary health need not be afraid to gratify an appetite which craves sweets. Those who have looked into the matter have been telling us lately that soldiers on the march hold out better if they have rations of sugar than if their food omits this useful commodity. A fondness for sugar is often a defense against the temptation to use alcoholic stimulants. The inebriate does not care very much about pure sweets.—Christian Herald.

The Age of Linen.

It is highly probable that the manufacture of linens is of greater antiquity than that of silk. Archaeologists generally admit that the mummy cloth of the most ancient dynasties was a variety of finest linen. The Egyptian and Jewish priests wore it at all their ceremonies. We find mention of fine linens all through the Old and New Testaments. When the queen of Sheba visited Solomon she was habited in linen. In Revelation the angels are clothed in "pure and white linen." Genesis tells us that Pharaoh arrayed Joseph in vestures of fine linen. Silk is mentioned in the Bible only four times.

The Mystic Seven.

A certain fond father sent his son to the University of Pennsylvania last fall. As a farewell piece of advice he told the young man that "his success was almost assured, since both the word success and your name contain seven letters." The midyear examinations, however, proved to be his doom, and he was compelled to return home.

"Well," said his father, "didn't you keep in mind what I told you about the seven letters?"

"I did that, father," answered the boy, "but you must remember that there are also seven letters in failure."—Philadelphia Times.

Money Panic.

"What was the worst money panic you ever saw?" asked one financier of another.

"The worst money panic I ever saw," was the reply, "was when a fifty cent piece rolled under the seat of a street car and seven different women claimed it."—Exchange.

Tyranny.

There are few minds to which tyranny is not delightful. Power is nothing but as it is felt, and the delight of superiority is proportionate to the resistance overcome.—Johnson.

Every production of genius must be the production of enthusiasm.—Disraeli.

Mr. LaFollette's Candidacy.

There is as yet no official verification of the report that Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin aspires to the Republican nomination for President in 1912 on the theory that with him there is a chance to win while if Mr. Taft is renominated it will mean "sure defeat." This assumption is imputed to Mr. LaFollette's friends, and it is essentially impudent. It takes for granted that only conservative Republicans will support the President next year, if he is renominated, while if the gentleman from Madison should win the prize in convention he would hold the conservatives and have the enthusiastic aid of the insurgents. It is already of record that four or five of the most active insurgents in the Senate are opposed to LaFollette's nomination, but there is no doubt they would turn in for him if he were named, and it may be accepted without question that element in the party would go along all right. Can the same be said, however, of the conservatism of the eastern states and of some of the mountain states of the west?

The LaFollettes propaganda is apparently proceeding under the delusion that the so-called progressive sentiment which was mischievously evident during the summer of 1909, and which reached high tide and swept the Democrats into office all over the country in 1910, is still the dominant influence in politics. That remains to be seen. One cannot follow events and read current discussion without being impressed with the belief that the pendulum is swinging back, slowly, perhaps, but nevertheless perceptibly, among business men, in labor, on the farms, in every direction, toward the conservation of opportunity to work, manufacture, sell and trade with less politcal turbulence and less radicalism in public affairs. There is only one man the Republicans in general have in mind in this crisis, only one with whom they have the slightest chance of winning, and that is President Taft. In his office and policy, his poise and judgment, his experience and foresight, he represents just what this country will turn to next year, if it is wise in the hope of relief from the agitation and unrest, with consequent depression and discontent, under which the people have too long lived. They should vote for domestic peace and commercial tranquility in 1912.—Pittsburg Gazette Times.

Child Logic.

A little girl for some days had observed a thick carpet of straw covering the street to deaden the noise for a sick lady in the house opposite.

When the danger had passed and men were removing the straw, she went to her mother and asked:

"Mother, what was the matter over at Mrs. Smith's?"

"God sent Mrs. Smith a new baby," answered her mother.

The child went to the window and stood watching again. Finally she turned and said:

"They pack babies awfull careful, don't they?"

Treating Worn-Out Land.

Worn-out land will yield a profit if it is treated wisely. That is what the Pennsylvania Railroad Company has been preaching to farmers along its lines. But it has been doing more than preaching; it has been proving it.

The Long Island Railroad proved by means of experimental farms that the worst ten acres on the Island could be cultivated at a good profit. Now the Pennsylvania has done the same thing with an experimental station at Bacon, Delaware.

The land purchased had not been farmed for over five years. It had been robbed of its fertility several years earlier and, considering it worthless, its owners let it grow up in sassafras, sweet briar, and weeds. It was in this condition when the Company's expert took charge. By a small application of stable manure, about 15 tons per acre, and 500 pounds of lime, corn was raised at the rate of 47 bushels an acre the first year.

A large variety of fruits and vegetables were grown in order to determine for the benefit of the farmers in territory which would bring the largest returns. Nearly everthing planted added something to the farm's income, but the best moneymakers were lima beans, yielding a net profit of $147.61 to the acre, cucumbers $104.00, watermelons $52.00, muskmelons $42.00, radishes $42.70, leeks $41.00, onions $40.37, and sweet potatoes $40.50 acre.

It must be remembered that these results were obtained during the first year and that much better ones are assured as the land is strengthened.

Besides offering to farmers practical examples of what can be raised on the Delaware-Maryland-Virginia Peninsula, demonstrations of up-to-date farming methods have been given. One of these, which consisted of draining a swamp and blowing out stumps with dynamite, was attended by over 500 people from the surrounding country.

Wash That Itch Away.

It is said that there are certain springs in Europe that give relief and cure to Eczema and other skin diseases. If you knew that by washing in these waters you could be relieved from that awful itch, wouldn't you make every effort to take a trip to Europe at once? Would not be willing to spend your last cent to find the cure?

But you need not leave home for these distant springs. Relief is right here in your own home town!

A simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol and other ingredients as compounded only in D. D. D. Prescription will bring instant relief to that terrible burning itch, and leave the skin as smooth and healthy as that of a child.

If you have not already tried it, get at least a 25 cent bottle today. We assure you of instant relief.

CHICAGO, ILLS.—Mr. J. G. Becker, of 134 Van Buren St., a well-known wholesale dry goods dealer, states as follows:

"I have had catarrh for more than thirty years. Have tried everything on earth and spent thousands of dollars for other medicines and with physicians, without getting any lasting relief, and can say to you that I have found Peruna the only remedy that has cured me permanently.

"Peruna has also cured my wife of catarrh. She always keeps it in the house for an attack of cold, which it invariably cures in a very short time."

Miss Ruth Bigelow, a daughter of Dr. W. S. Bigelow, of Philipsburg, has entered the Flower Homeopathic Hospital, in New York, for a course in training as a nurse.

W. H. Watson, of Runville, is one of our new subscribers. Mr. Watson's name was enrolled a few days ago and we trust that the paper will more than come up to his expectations.

We hereby extend thanks to C. B. Hess, of Penna. Furnace, for a neat one dollar bill advancing his subscription to "The Republican." We are always glad to hear from our regular readers.

Our new subscribers during the last few days include H. P. Eves, of Port Matilda, thus adding another to our growing list of regular readers who receive their mail at the Port Matilda post-office.

We take pleasure this week in enrolling Hannah Northamer, of Stormstown, on our list of regular readers, and we sincerely hope that "The Republican" will win a permanent place in the Northamer home.

Our good friend, Squire W. P. Harpster, of Houtzdale, is always prompt in advancing his subscription to "The Republican." A day or two ago he again demonstrated this by sending us a letter in which was enclosed a crisp one dollar bill. Thanks, Squire.

Portable Bath Apparatus I have the general agency for the well known Allen portable bath apparatus. A postal card will bring me to your door with a free demonstration of these handy articles. Luther E. Hughes, General Agent, Valentine Street, Bellefonte, Pa.

We are indebted to William A. Bush, of Fleming, for a one dollar bill advancing his subscription to "The Republican." Mr. Bush believes in the doctrine that whereas a good newspaper comes around fifty times a year a good subscriber never fails to "come around" once a year.

W. B. Sensor, of Tyrone, is a new subscriber to "The Republican," his name having been enrolled a few days ago. Mr. Sensor is especially interested in Unionville news and he has adopted the right plan for securing the best weekly news letter from that pretty town.

Aaron W. Tressler and Guy Hillard, of Penna. Furnace, were this week enrolled as new subscribers to "The Republican." We are very glad to have the opportunity to send them a good newspaper, knowing that both are of that type of citizens who appreciate the best going.

It is indeed a pleasure to us to this week enroll as new subscribers these citizens residing in and about Fleming: Jason Underwood, L. E. Eckley, M. J. Deters, I. G. Alexander, and Harvey Hoover. Mr. Hoover will also receive the Philadelphia daily "Inquirer" during the coming year.

Arista Lucas, one of Unionville's genial citizens, was a Bellefonte visitor on Tuesday. While in town he called at "The Republican" office and had himself enrolled as a subscriber. Mr. Lucas is getting along in the sixties, but he carries his age so well that, as does a woman over twenty, he shouldn't tell just how old he is.

Two weddings were solemnized at State College on Thursday of last week. Miss Bessie R. Reeser became the bride of Daniel Ziegler, the ceremony being performed by Rev. I. S. Sassaman at the Grace Lutheran parsonage. Miss Anna Daugherty and Charles R. Steele were married at the home of the bride, Rev. J. M. Reiley officiating.

Professor C. L. Gramley, of Rebersburg, was a genial and welcome caller at "The Republican" office a few days ago, dropping in to pay his respects and also to advance his subscription to this newspaper. While somewhat taller, the big, jovial Professor has many of the features of President Taft. A sunny disposition is one of the characteristics of the President, but in this he has'nt anything on our good friend, Brother Gramley.

We wish to extend to William R. Rossman, of Howard, our appreciation of his kindness in advancing his subscription to "The Republican" another year. Another Howard subscriber who favored us in this way during the last few days was W. H. Solt. "The Republican" is properly proud of the large and constantly growing list of readers in and about Howard and also of the fact that they represent some of the best and most substantial citizens of that section of the county.

It would be a genuine pleasure to publish a newspaper and hustle week in and week out to get the news if all our readers were as thoughtful and generous as is Henry Rossman, of Tusseyville. A few days ago Mr. Rossman called and not only advanced his subscription but had the date on the label marked up to October, 1912. We trust that Mr. Rossman enjoys reading "The Republican" just one-half so much as we are proud of the fact that he is included among the friends of this newspaper.

Mrs. Wilson Ghaner and her daughter, Mrs. Harry Williams, of Scotia, were Bellefonte visitors on Tuesday. After attending to some shopping, Mrs. Ghaner returned to Scotia on the afternoon train and Mrs. Williams went to Pleasant Gap for a little visit with her husband's brother, Merrill Williams, and also his sister, Mrs. C. K. Stitzer. Merrill is a fine young man but we strongly suspect that the chief attraction these days at the Stitzer home is a cute little daughter, born Monday, June 5, and named Dorothy Mildred Stitzer.

While in town several days ago attending to a number of business matters, Dr. W. J. Kurtz, of Howard, dropped into "The Republican" office for a little chat. While here he very thoughtfully advanced his subscription another year. Dr. Kurtz has a large and lucrative practice but he finds time to devote attention to the public schools and other matters pertaining to the welfare of his home town. Coupled with this is the fact that he is one of those Republicans who hustles for the success of his party and is always to be found on the firing line.

Undertaker Frank E. Naginey departed yesterday on a business trip to New York.

Harry D. Otto expects to remove his family to Johnstown tomorrow, planning to make that place his future home.

Mrs. A. J. Boyle and daughter, of Hazleton, are visiting the former's mother, Mrs. C. D. Tanner, in Bishop Street.

Miss Gertrude Henderson, of Montgomery, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Crider, on West Linn Street.

There will be a tennis tournament on the East Linn Street courts today, at 3 o'clock, between the Lock Haven and Bellefonte teams.

A 13-years-old boy by the name of Brandon was lodged in the Bellefonte jail on Saturday, last, charged with the theft of a bicycle at Osceola.

Religious services will be held at Hunters Park on Suuday evening, next, beginning at 8.15 o'clock. No meeting will be held on Saturday evening.

Rev. Fred W. Barry on Tuesday returned home from Washington, where he was in attendance upon the meeting of the General Synod of the Lutheran church.

Mrs. Patsy Stewart was hostess for a little automobile party that on Tuesday visited her old home at Snow Shoe, her guests being Mrs. A. O. Furst and Mrs. F. W. Crider.

Mrs. John McKelvey, whose husband passed away in Bellefonte a short time ago, died on Tuesday at Sunbury. Her body will be taken today to Port Matilda for interment.

Mrs. H. M. Hiller and children are expected to arrive in Bellefonte today from Chester to remain for an extended visit at the home of Mrs. M. H. Wilson, on High Street.

Rev. Frances S. Hort, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at South Bethlehem, will occupy the pulpit in the Bellefonte Presbyterian church, on Sunday, next, both morning and evening.

Harry McCoy, of California, Pa., and Herbert McCoy and two children, of Jersey Shore, were over-Sunday guests at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCoy, on Thomas Street.

Joshua Barner on Monday evening caught a fine 15-inch California trout near the pump house, a short distance from the Pennsylvania Railroad passenger station. The trout was caught with a cane rod and an ordinary garden worm.

S. W. Zettle and Jared Evey, of near Bellefonte, have purchased the milk and cream business conducted for some time past by John and Edward Gross. The latter will devote their entire attention to operating their grocery store, in Spring Street.

The very pretty programs used on the occasion of the Bellefonte High School commencement exercises, on Tuesday evening, were printed at "The Republican" office. With new type and skilled workmen, our job printing department is prepared to handle any and all kinds of work.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Rees departed yesterday on a trip which will take in Mifflinburg, Lewisburg, Wilkes-Barre and Scranton, Mr. Rees is engaged in collecting special revenue taxes and after visiting the several places mentioned he will make his headquarters at Scranton until July 2.

Contractor R. B. Taylor has purchased from the Thomas estate a plot of ground near the Gamble & Gheen flouring mill, on Thomas Street, and will use the same as a coal yard. It is his intention to put in a railroad siding, approaching the yard from the southern end. An office building and also an ice storage building will be erected in the yard.

The State College summer school for teachers will begin on Monday next, with between 200 and 300 teachers in attendance. The session will continue six weeks. On Sunday evening, July 2, at 7.30 o'clock, union religious services will be held on the front campus. Rev. J. Allison Platts, formerly of Bellefonte, but now of Wilkinsburg, will preach.

Children's Day services will be held in the Olive Branch, Union chapel, Sunday school, at Coleville, on Sunday afternoon, next, at 2.30 o'clock. An interesting program has been arranged and all are cordially invited to attend. On Sunday, July 2, General Beaver will conduct the Sunday school services at the chapel.

Bob Valentine is one of the most expert fishermen in this neck o' woods. His brother, George, isn't a fisherman at all, doesn't pretend to be and frankly says that he is most at home on his stock farm. Some time ago the two brothers were out fishing and, as occasionally will happen, the amateur caught all the fish. George said that he supposed the trout were showing deference to "age before beauty."

Rev. C. W. Winey, pastor of the Bellefonte United Brethren church, was the recipient of two fine honors while in attendance upon the Christian Endeavor convention, at Woodland, last week. Mr. Winey was elected president of the Christian Endeavorers of the Allegheny Conference and later that body selected him as their delegate to Atlantic City on the occasion of the International Christian Endeavor Convention, July 6-12.

The several graduates of the Lock Haven State Normal School this week included Misses Sarah Viola Harter and Mabel Margaret Long, of Spring Mills; Olive Emma Way, of Stormstown; Susan Mary Rearick, of Salona; Edith Weber, Blanche E. Swartz, Sarah Edith Wentzel and Lulu Leah Schenck, of Howard; Alice L. Waring and Edith Kathryn Shimmel, of Philipsburg; Marguerite Musser and Ruth Marie Rice, of State College, and John Harrison McGhee, of Beech Creek.

Randolph Daggett and Jack Dale this week launched out as full-fledged lumbermen. Ran broke the ice by going to work for Sam. Rumberger, who is cutting out some timber for Lincoln Musser near Unionville. Ran started in peeling bark, his contract price being four cents per tree. After being on the job one day he was in four cents and a pair of beautifully blistered hands. He returned home for a hurry-up conference with Jack Dale, his side-partner, who insisted that they stick to the contract and disregard the slogan, "Woodman, spare that tree." Both are now on the job, but with the date for their return home left open.

The Yearick-Hoy annual reunion is being held today at Hecla Park.

Ex-Sheriff John Condo greeted old friends in town several days this week.

Charles Martin, of Tyrone, recently spent several days with friends in Bellefonte.

Miss Maude Johnson, of Bellefonte, is this week visiting with Lock Haven friends.

Roger T. Bayard, of the Tyrone "Herald", was a Sunday visitor in Bellefonte.

Mrs. John C. Rowe returned home on Monday after a delightful visit with Philipsburg friends.

Miss Lyda Morris entertained at cards at her home, on East Linn Street, on Wednesday afternoon.

James C. Furst and John Curtin have been camping and trout fishing along Fishing Creek the past week or more.

Henry C. Rice, of Julian, this week spent several days with old-time neighbors and friends in Philipsburg, his former home.

While fishing nearby the Central Railroad of Penna. passenger station early last night, Joe Thal caught a sixteen inch California trout.

F. W. Crider yesterday received from the factory the electric automobile purchased by him several weeks ago. The car will be unloaded and tested out today.

Miss Ethel Dale, who is a student at Goucher College, at Baltimore, Md., arrived home on Saturday and will spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clement Dale.

Alvin and Herbert Bartley, of Lock Haven, and Austin Bartley, of Altoona, spent Sunday in Bellefonte, visiting their father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bartley, in Bush Addition.

Frank Reed, of Osceola, formerly of Philipsburg, several days ago fractured his right leg while jumping from the top of a moving freight car. He was removed to the Philipsburg hospital.

The condition of Miss Mary Ceader, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ceader, was last night reported to be if anything slightly improved. She was said to be extremely weak but resting comfortably.

The corner stone of the new St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church in Philipsburg will be laid on Wednesday morning, June 28, at 10.30 o'clock, with Bishop Darlington and other prominent clergymen in attendance.

T. B. Budinger, as executor, conducted the sale of personal property and real estate of the late Hetty E. Thompson estate, in Snow Shoe borough, held on Saturday, June 17. The personal property brought $15.70, and the real estate was sold to John A. Confer for $315.

Mrs. Blanche Schloss, who has been spending some time in California, arrived in Bellefonte on Tuesday for a visit with her mother, Mrs. M. Fauble. Miss Mable Fauble departed yesterday for Harrisburg, where she will meet her sister, Miss Rosa, and accompany her to the seashore for a visit of several weeks.

G. Willard Hall, of Bellefonte, this week formally entered the race for the Republican nomination for Register of Centre County. His announcement card appears in another column of "The Republican." Mr. Hall has informed his friends of his determination to make a vigorous fight for the nomination.

Mrs. G. Edward Harper, of Curtin, is one of the first young women in this section to run an automobile. Last week the Harpers purchased a Maxwell car and since that time Mrs. Harper has been exciting no little envy by her clever driving. She is at present entertaining Mrs. Scott Rippey, of Pitttburg, who is also an expert at the wheel.

Dr. F. E. Gutelius, one of Millheim's representative citizens, was a Bellefonte visitor between trains on Wednesday and while in town dropped into "The Republican" office for a little call. He departed on the afternoon train for Tyrone, planning a brief visit with his brother, Daniel Gutelius, at Warren, Ohio, and also with his sister, Mrs. T. O. Morris, at Mansfield, Ohio.

A welcome little visitor to "The Republican" office a few days ago was Paul, the 7-years-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Miller, just home from a school for the instruction of deaf and dumb children, near Philadelphia. Paul has made wonderful progress since he entered the school two years ago and now is able to pronounce some words quite distinctly. He still is unable to hear but it is believed that this will be improved as he grows older. By observing the lips of the one speaking to him Paul is able to understand many words, some of which he repeats with ease. He has a bright, happy face and it is to be sincerely hoped that he will eventually gain full possession of not only his voice but also his hearing.

If there is anything George Robb, of Coleville, prides himself on it is his stanch Republicanism. Knowing this it was little wonder that we were amazed when George walked into "The Republican" office a few days ago and remarked that "these Governor Wilsons certainly are fine." Not quite sure that George was serious in his praise for the Democratic Governor of New Jersey we naturally sat back and awaited further developments. Opening up a tin bucket George displayed a lot of the finest cherries we have seen in many a day, and as he did so he again mentioned the superior qualities of the Governor Wilsons. Needless to explain, the Governor Wilsons which George prizes so highly are the California brand of sweet cherry, grown in his yard at Coleville. The lot he had with him were a present for us from his good wife. It required something as toothsome as sweet cherries to effect a quick recovery from our fright over what we at first feared was an open declaration by George that he had quit the Grand Old Party and had lined up with New Jersey's Governor and Democratic aspirant for nomination for President. So long as the Governor Wilsons which tickle George's palate are grown on Mrs. Robb's cherry tree it will be all right.

STEVENS & FRY,
LAWYERS,
719 Story Street.

Boone, Iowa, Nov. 5, 1907.

Hon. Sidney A. Foster,
Sec. R. U. M. L. Ins. CO.,
Des Moines, Ia.

My Dear Sir:

I have your favor of November 2nd stating that my policy for $1,000 issued by your company is now full paid and I may take a full paid participating policy for the amount of my original policy, $1,000, and receive in cash the surplus, $428, or take guaranteed cash value, $575, and in addition cash surplus, $428, making a total cash value of $1,003, or I may take a full paid policy for $1650. I have paid in premium $735.-20, leaving me a profit of $267.80.

This is very satisfactory to me, and fully justifies the confidence which I had twenty years ago in the then new Iowa company organized by Iowa men, and it is a pleasure to know that the same men continue to manage its affairs. I hereby elect to take a full participating policy and my cash surplus, believing that the participating policy payable at my death is a good investment and absolutely safe.

Hoping for your continued success, I am,
Yours respectfully,

J.L.S.--A.M. JOHN L. STEVENS.
